Washington—Although the senators nominated in the primaries this week and those to be elected in November, will not enter on their new terms until December, 1927, unless an extra session is called earlier, the fact that President Coolidge faces a diminished party strength in the upper house of congress is giving the prophets of trouble for the administration plenty of background.

The defeat of Senator Lenroot in Wisconsin and the probable election in Iowa of Smith Brookhart as the successor to the late Senator Cummins deprives Mr. Coolidge of two votes he could hereafter have depended on in the congress of December, 1927. The renomination of Senator Moses in New Hampshire is regarded here as tantamount to an election, though there is no certainty just how much help the strife inside the Republican party may eventually give the Democratic nominee. As for Nevada, where Senator Oddie, another administration supporter, has been renominated, the Democrats have a good campaigner in picture. Ray Baker, the man who started as a prospector in the gold fields of Tonopah and was appointed director of the mint by President Wilson, if there is dissatisfaction with the Coolidge administration, Mr. Baker will be aided by that element plus many of those who voted for Senator Oddie's opponent.

DEMOCRATS TO BE ELECTED
There are Democrats certain to be elected in many of the states where elections are to be held, because it so happens that of the one-third up for election this year several come from the normally Democratic sections. Only two or three Democratic gains are necessary to give the Democrats and the insurgents the control of the senate on important matters.

This does not however mean a radical regime, for inside the Democratic party are enough conservative senators plus the conservative Republicans to prevent the enactment of any legislation deemed harmful by the conservative and business interests of the country.

COALITION IS SEEN
The coalition can play politics, on the other hand, with resolutions of inquiry and other purely political maneuvers so that the Coolidge administration can be kept on the defensive beginning in December, 1927—for it is unlikely that Mr. Coolidge would call an extra session in the face of certain trouble from an insurgent and Democratic coalition.

A Democratic landslide, of course, could give the Democrats complete control of the senate, but the party leaders themselves are hoping it will not happen, for the responsibility would be on them to carry out a legislation program in the upper house and the Republican executive would have a good argument with which to appeal to the country in 1928 in defense of his administration in the last two years. For when one political party controls the legislative branch of the government, the other has always insisted that it could have done better had it had complete control.

GERMANY AND FRANCE MAKE
VOW OF PEACEBoth Nations Engage Honor
Never Again to Draw
Sword in War

BULLETIN

Paris—(AP)—A Havas dispatch from Geneva says Spain has officially announced her withdrawal from the league of nations.

Geneva—(AP)—Germany was received into the league of nations Friday amid scenes of European reconciliation which in their fire of enthusiasm have been unexampled since the armistice.

Germany and France, through foreign Ministers Stresemann and Briand, committed themselves to perpetual peace, and solemnly engaged the honor of their nations henceforth never to draw the sword but to settle disputes by arbitration or compromise.

Three things stood out dramatically on this historic day. The first was Dr. Stresemann's picture of present day Germany as gripped only by lofty ideals, determined to dedicate her energies henceforth to international cooperation based on a high intellectual and moral plane. This spirit he said had entered into the very conscience of the German people.

BRIAND PLEDGES PEACE
The second feature was the remarkable oration of M. Briand, whose declaration that Germany and France have had enough glory in the past and need no further demonstration of heroism, and whose proclamation that the roar of guns had now been silenced, evoked tumultuous applause.

The third outstanding incident was the scene of almost delirious jubilation throughout the vast auditorium, when Sir George Foster of Canada, arose as M. Briand was resuming his speech, and waving high the Union Jack, called for three cheers for France's eminent leader.

GANGSTER SHOT
DEAD IN FEUDKenosha Man Is Murdered as He Prepares to Enter Automobile

Kenosha—(AP)—Vito Scerio, well known figure among a gangster section in the city lies dead in a morgue here Friday as the result of a murder which took place Thursday evening when Scerio was shot while about to step into his car. He died 30 minutes after the shooting.

Frank Chiappetti, whom Scerio is alleged to have named to a police officer as his assassin, is in the city jail charged with murder. His brother, Sam Chiappetti, is also held on the murder charge. Two men at least are believed to have been the principals in the murder scene, for Scerio's body is riddled with bullets from a double barreled shotgun and a revolver.

Both brothers deny knowing anything about the killing, and steadily maintained their innocence. The murder of Scerio is the climax of a series of killings among the Chiappetti-Scerio feudists which have reached over a period of five years. The last killing took place in Oct. 1925, when Bruno Andreoli was killed while in Vito Scerio's restaurant. Scerio at the time was held to no coroner's jury for questioning, but was released when no evidence was found against him.

BAR ARCHITECT AND WIFE FROM TALIESIN

Madison—(AP)—Miriam Noel Wright and her estranged husband, Frank Lloyd Wright, are forbidden by injunction from returning to the architect's villa, Taliesin near Spring Green.

The Bank of Wisconsin of Madison, through its attorney, H. H. Thomas Thursday obtained a writ of injunction in circuit court here restraining the Wrights from entering the grounds of the estate from which Mrs. Wright was barred by her husband before he fled last week a few hours ahead of officers who came to arrest him on warrants charging adultery.

The bank's action was taken in connection with its suit to foreclose on a $25,000 mortgage which it holds against Taliesin. It also holds chattel mortgages on personal property within the house.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU
REPORTS TROPICAL STORM IN ATLANTIC

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Reports to the weather bureau Friday indicated that another tropical storm is centering north of Porto Rico and moving northward.

New York—(AP)—An unusually severe earthquake was recorded by the Seismograph at Fordham university Friday. The shock began at 6:45 in the morning, reached its greatest force at 8 o'clock and continued until 10 o'clock. The distance was estimated at 5,600 miles from New York probably in the southern Pacific.

MINOR ERRORS ARE FOUND IN
VOTE CANVASSBut No Official Statement
Can Be Made Until
Work Is Finished

Starting work at 9 o'clock Friday morning the Outagamie county board of canvassers making the official canvass of the vote cast at the recent primary announced at noon that several discrepancies had been found in the tabulations returned from the various voting precincts.

Town of Oneida, it was stated, and a precinct in the First ward, City of Appleton, revealed mistakes in the tabulations of the polling place officials.

However, it was pointed out, the work is progressing slowly and no definite statement could be given until Friday as to what effect the canvass is going to have on totals already announced. That the race between Earl C. Schwartz and Otto H. Zuehlke, candidates for sheriff will probably be affected was intimated. Although no statistics were given reports indicated that the meticulous check being made had brought to light additional votes for each man.

EXPECT RECOUNT
That a recount will be sought of the actual ballots in several precincts seemed sure Friday.

Owing to the importance of the tabulating and the extreme caution being exercised by the board of canvassers

WANTS EVERYONE TO TAKE DRY ISSUE STAND

Baraboo—(AP)—Dorothy Walker, youthful bobbed haired district attorney of Columbia-co, believes Volsteadism will be enforced when those "sitting on the fence" realize that good government is at stake.

Miss Walker, the state's sole female county prosecutor, told the state convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union here Thursday night that the time has come for everyone to take a stand on prohibition, on one side or the other. "Sitting back and taking no stand on prohibition is hampering good government in this country," she said. "Let us be tolerant and do not try to suppress any discussion of modification if we try to smother it, people will discuss it and support it who might do otherwise."

HUNT SLAYERS OF WOMAN WHO FOUGHT FOR GIRL

Muskegon, Mich.—(AP)—A posse was searching the woods near here early Friday for Elmer Woodward, 30, mechanic who Thursday night is alleged to have clubbed to death Mrs. Celia Barnes, 34, when she sought to protect her daughter Isabel, 15, from an attack.

According to the girl's story to police, Woodward appeared at the Barnes home and declared his own small daughter was dangerously ill and was calling for Isabel. She said he asked permission to take her home in a suburb in his car, and Mrs. Barnes decided to accompany them.

After reaching the city outskirts, she said, Woodward stopped the machine and struck both with an automobile jack stunning them. As grappled with the girl, the dazed mother attempted to intervene and he struck her again crushing her skull, Isabel said. When an automobile approached later, Woodward fled into a nearby wood. The girl was brought here suffering from a deep gash on the head.

ESCAPE WITH

and Take Pouch With-

Chicago—(AP)—Mail loot estimated from $150,000 to $500,000 was seized aboard an eastbound Grand Trunk train No. 10 Friday by three of a band of four robbers who escaped at the southwestern suburb of Evergreen park without firing a shot.

Consignments of currency from the Federal Reserve bank of Chicago and the Union Trust company, also a Chicago bank, comprised the loot, the amount of which Grant Miller, post office inspector in charge here, said had not yet been ascertained.

Two of the robbers entered a mail car and held up the mail clerks, escaping with one pouch of registered mail containing the registered shipments which were consigned to Harvey, Ill., a large manufacturing suburb.

An automobile was in waiting for the mail robbers who had escaped before the police had even received notification of the robbery.

The fine was paid.

Ho, Hum! Channel Record
Tumbles For Third Time

Deal, England—(AP)—The English channel swimming record fell Friday for the third time this season. Georges Michel, 36 year old Paris baker making his tenth attempt, landed at St. Margaret's Bay at 7:31 Friday morning from Cape Griz Nez, France, where he entered the water at 8:25 Thursday night.

His record of 11 hours, 5 minutes in one hour 38 minutes better than that established on Aug. 30 by Ernest Vierkoetter of Germany, who singularly is also a baker. Gertrude Ederle, American star and the first woman to swim the channel, was the season's first record-breaker, with 14 hours, 31 minutes.

Michel Friday afternoon felt none of the worst for his exertions, except for a remaining touch of cramp. During much of the swim he suffered from seasickness, and he was unable to take any food while in the water except a few pieces of sugar and some coffee and cognac.

"Swimming conditions were certainly good," Michel said as he vigor-

Lady Astor Wants Woman
President For CountryTells Club "It Would Be Amusing" If Democrats
Should Nominate One

New York—(AP)—Lady Nancy Astor, Virginia-born member of the British parliament, thinks the Democrats should nominate a woman for president of the United States in 1928.

"I don't believe they will do it," she said in a speech Thursday night before 1,500 members of the League of Women Voters at the Waldorf Astoria "but it would be amusing if they would."

Lady Astor, introduced by Owen D. Young as "the most distinguished woman in politics in the world" and "one of the most fascinating figures of our time," is convinced that women have made great progress recently in the rapidly changing world of the past few years.

"WOMEN NOT WEAKLINGS"
"No longer are women classed for political purposes with criminals, paupers and lunatics," she added. "No longer are they classed as weaklings physically. Look at the channel swimmers. And the women have had another triumph since then. I read of a lady in Rhode Island who managed to consume two pecks of clams and ate every man under table, showing our digestive organs as well as our muscles are superior to man's."

Woman's progress in politics has been made despite male opposition she thinks, for "the machine politician doesn't like women. They can't be counted on, they are an unknown quantity. So it would seem that women are still up to their old trick of keeping men guessing. Well it is better to keep them guessing than be led blindly by them."

As for clappers she doesn't quite know what they are, unless the term means the modern young woman, whom Lady Astor considers more venturesome but quite as virtuous as their grandmothers. Women will never go back on prohibition in her opinion.

Lady Astor's speech was a preliminary farewell to America, on her present visit. She will leave Friday night for home on the Olympic.

CHINESE ARMY
THREATENS TO
BOMBARD CITYAmerican Officials Deny
Knowledge That U. S.
Ships Were Fired on

Shanghai—(AP)—Reports from Hankow dated the eighth say the city of Wuchang is still held by northern troops and foreigners within the walls are safe. The southern commander, however, threatens a general bombardment of the place unless his northern antagonists surrender unconditionally.

Reports say that Marshall Wu Pei-fu, commander in chief of the northern armies of the Yangtze, departed for the north on the night of the sixth and is believed to be now at Siakow, fifty miles north of Hankow.

DISCLAIM FIRE ON CRAFT
American officials still disclaim any knowledge of the reported participation of American warcraft in the engagement on the Yangtze last Monday in which several British officers and men were killed and wounded and Chinese troops fired on British gunboats.

A telegram received here from Hankow says, however, the American torpedo boat destroyers Stewart and Pope which arrived at Hankow last Friday, encountered rifle and machine gun fire 50 miles down the Yangtze river. The despatch adds that two soldiers on the American boat were wounded.

Another report received from Hankow says every foreign steamer entering or leaving port is made the target for the bullets of the Cantonese soldiers. Several Japanese and British ships are declared to have been badly riddled.

EVIDENCE IN
FRAUD TRIALMagnate Tells Government
About Aften Property
Transfer in 1921

New York—(AP)—Richard Merton, German metal magnate, testified Friday that it was he who suggested paying the late John T. King "something" for his aid in obtaining the return to allegedly German owners of $7,000,000 realized from the sale of American Metals company stock during the war.

Merton is the government's star witness in the trial of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian, for conspiracy to defraud the United States in the transfer of the $7,000,000. John T. King, who died soon after the first indictment in the case was returned is alleged by the government to "have pulled the strings" in the deal.

PROMISED KING 5 PER CENT
Merton said that under the terms of an agreement he finally reached with King, in July, 1921, he agreed to pay the latter five per cent of the amount of assets recovered, provided the transaction was completed before Aug. 15, 1921. If the transaction was not completed before Sept. 15, Merton said he was to pay King 2½ per cent of the amount recovered. In addition he testified he agreed to pay King $50,000 in cash, and shortly thereafter give King a check for the amount drawn on the Chase National bank. Merton said he had not seen the cancelled check but he knew that it had been cashed.

King, the late Jesse W. Smith and Miller attended the champagne dinner, Merton testified. He gave each of his three guests a gold cigarette case as souvenirs the witnesses said. Two bottles of champagne were consumed, he asserted.

Merton said Miller had come from Washington to personally deliver the checks because he (Merton) had made it clear he was in a hurry to return to Germany.

KING INFLUENTIAL LEADER
Merton said he obtained the services of King because he thought it would be less expensive than hiring a lawyer. King was once Republican national committeeman from Connecticut and one of the most influential men in the Republican party.

Telling of the actual transfer of the $7,000,000, Merton testified that at a champagne dinner in a private room at the Ritz-Carlton hotel in this city, Miller handed him two checks totaling about $7,000,000. He could not say the date of the dinner. The government alleged it took place on Sept. 30, 1921.

Sparta—(AP)—The independent candidacy of Philip LaFollette of Madison, brother of Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., for governor was urged in a resolution passed by Progressive leaders representing virtually every precinct in Monroeville, who met at a burly called meeting at the court house here.

The Progressive support of the county was pledged to such a movement in opposition to the candidacy of Fred R. Zimmerman, Progressive-Republican, nominated in Tuesday's primary. Over $200 was raised as a contribution to the campaign fund.

TERRITORY IS PARALYZED BY FURY OF FLOODIndiana Conditions Most Serious Since Disastrous
Rains of 1913LOSS RUNS TO MILLIONS
Farmers Abandon Hope for Small Grain and Fear
Frost for Corn

Chicago—(AP)—The central west counted seven deaths and guessed at millions of property and crop losses Friday in the flooded wake of the third visitation within ten days by storms and equinoctial fury.

Industry and agriculture were at a standstill in many localities paralyzed into complete inactivity by floods which swept fields and factories alike. In central Indiana and Illinois the torrential rain and lightning were more damaging in their effect than last week's storms, from which a broad area from Ohio to Nebraska was only beginning to recover from the fresh onslaught. Clearing skies and forecast of warmer weather promised relief Friday and strengthened hope that the peak of the downpour had been reached Wednesday night although the weather bureau hinted a return of unsettled conditions tomorrow.

FEAR SWOLLEN STREAMS
The fear Friday was of swollen streams, freshened by torrents, flooding inundated territories miles from the principal outlets. At Terre Haute, Ind., conditions were the most serious since the disastrous flood of 1913, the 7.35 inches of rain at Mattoon, Ill., was the heaviest fall since 1907 and Jacksonville, Ill., recorded eight inches of rain for the first flood in its history.

Throughout central Illinois hundreds of automobiles, tractors, were marooned. Near Terre Haute 25 coal mines were among idle industrial units.

MILLIONS LOST ON FARMS
There were little more than estimates on the cumulative loss to agriculture but they ran up into the millions.

Farmers abandoned hope for small grain standing in some sections and taking note of coolness accompanying the rains, were fearful for corn, under threat of frost before maturity. At Aurora, Ill., corn losses were put at fifty per cent. Three of the four deaths in Illinois were from electrocution the other and those of a Missouri farmer and his two small children were drownings.

MUSICIANS WILL RETURN TO JOBSThreat to Strike Vanishes as Wage Terms Agreement Is Reached

Chicago—(AP)—The strike of 3,000 musicians in 400 Chicago movie theatres was called off early Friday. An agreement, reached after a lengthy session between union officers and exhibitors, provided for an increase in pay of $4.50 a week for two years, with an additional increase of 43 cents for the third year. The settlement under which the musicians will return to their jobs Friday, came after four days of negotiations during which Chicago movie houses and vaudeville theatres showed pictures only at reduced prices. After negotiations had been in progress for several hours last night, agreement had been reached on all but one point, the length of the new contract, between exhibitors and the union. Several more hours were required to settle this point.

Previously agreement had been reached to submit to arbitration the question of whether certain of the smaller theatres would be allowed to cut their orchestras from four pieces to an organist or pianist if they so desired. This was one of the chief points in the controversy.

The board of arbitration will consist of two representatives each from the exhibitors and musicians and an outsider, Dr. Karl Neyer of the staff of the Cook-co hospital.

RULE MAY CALL CONFERENCE ON VALLEY SEWAGE

Appleton's Mayor Awaits Reaction from Other City Officials

Joint construction of a large sewage disposal plant south of Kaukauna by Fox river valley cities between Neenah and Kaukauna, recently proposed by the village board of Combined Locks, probably will be considered soon at a meeting of officials and engineers of the municipalities concerned with the president of the state board of health. It is indicated by Mayor Albert C. Rule.

Mayor Rule, who was asked by the Combined Locks village board to call the meeting if the majority of city heads between two extreme limits of the proposed system indicate their interests in such a project, is now awaiting word from nearby cities and villages, and if there is sufficient demand for the meeting, he will fix the time and place.

Construction of a plant for the combined use of valley cities between Neenah and Kaukauna was recommended last month by the village board of Combined Locks following refusal by the state board of health to approve present plans and specifications for a sewage system for that village prepared by A. E. McMahon, village engineer. To secure approval, the state board indicated the plans would have to be amended so as to include a sewage disposal plant.

The plans as submitted by the village failed to meet with the approval of the state board because of a policy it has adopted not to permit in the future dumping sewage into the rivers of the state, the village was informed. It indicated to Combined Locks that it is contemplating a plan which would require all municipalities which now dump their sewage into running streams to construct sewage disposal plants.

Should the state board of health require municipalities now discharging their sewage into the Fox river to construct adequate sewage disposal plants, the cities concerned would all be faced with a costly undertaking, the village board pointed out.

Holding that the cost of an adequate sewage disposal plant would be too large for the village to finance while the cost of one large plant for all the above mentioned municipalities would amount to a comparatively small sum for each, the board adopted a resolution authorizing a joint meeting of the heads and engineers of such municipalities to meet with the president of the state board of health for the purpose of considering and discussing the practicability and feasibility of an intercepting sewer and disposal plant and the formation of a municipal district to construct and maintain it.

The project was recommended by A. E. McMahon, engineer of Combined Locks. He advised that an intercepting sewer connecting Neenah with Kaukauna and other municipalities lying between these two cities, with a large disposal sewage plant below Kaukauna, would cost each municipality considerably less than the cost of an individual disposal plant for each village and city, and that it would much more efficaciously and sanitariously dispose of all sewage.

A copy of the resolution was mailed by the clerk of Combined Locks to the mayor of each city and president of each village concerned in the proposed project, with the request that each person notify Mayor Rule whether he would be willing to attend a meeting with the president of the state board of health to discuss the undertaking. The resolution authorizes Mayor Rule to name the time and place of the meeting if he receives a majority demand for it.

ASK POLICE TO WATCH FOR THREE STOLEN CARS

Automobile thieves who chose a carefully equipped for camping are being sought by Appleton police as are two others who stole small coupes from Green Bay, it was reported at police headquarters Friday morning.

It was believed that a Buick touring car, with suitcases strapped to the running boards, carrying a tent and other outdoor paraphernalia might be headed north, Fond du Lac police warned.

Although an average of three machines a day are reported stolen from cities in the Fox River valley the number taken in Appleton has been negligible, police say.

The massed band concert by the All-Wisconsin Elks' band will take place from the clubhouse rostrum at 8 o'clock. It has been arranged by Prof. A. Enna, Green Bay, who is chairman of the state committee on music. Nearly a dozen bands, totaling more than 100 pieces, and representing all sections of the state, will participate.

Business sessions will be resumed Saturday morning. The convention parade will move through the streets of the downtown section at 2 p. m. A concert by the Wausau band Saturday evening will close the convention.

substitutes if you

Quaker
flavor

THE point to remember when buying breakfast oats is that only Quaker Oats have the rich Quaker flavor that you want.

One package of oats without that flavor may spoil your breakfasts for a week.

The price you pay is the same. Thus "trying" a substitute is a folly. Quaker flavor is the result of some 50 years milling experience. No other oats has it. Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed.

Get Quick Quaker, which cooks in 3 to 5 minutes, or regular Quaker Oats as you have always known.

REAL ESTATE MOVING WELL, REGISTER SAYS

Seven transfers of real estate, six in Appleton and one at Little Chute have been recorded with Albert G. Koch, register of deeds.

Recently, Mr. Koch pointed out, there has been an apparent increase of business in his office. Although a large majority of the work done is routine filing of valuable papers, real estate transfers, quit claim deeds, and satisfaction of mortgage records, the volume would indicate considerable movement in real estate and reflects good business conditions in the county as a whole, he said.

The greater percentage of real estate changing ownership during the past month has been in city lots in

DRIVER IS BURNED ALIVE IN CRASH

Oconto—(P)—Trapped in the cab of his truck when it caught fire after crashing into a culvert on Highway 15, near Abrams, south of here, John Appleton and the other cities of the county.

Transfers filed Thursday are: Roscoe Clark to R. Y. Clark, lot on Fifth ward; John B. Van Eyck to Martin Van Eyck, lot in Little Chute village; John Van Doyen to Fred H. Lillie, lot in Sixth ward; Ernest Bernhardt to Louise Moore, lot in Sixth ward; Henry A. Noffke to Charles Fuerst, lot in Sixth ward; E. C. Eisch to William Vandenberg, lot in Sixth ward, and Elmer Dewitt to John B. Vandermouse, lot in Third ward.

Darouche, Jr., the driver, was burned alive. The big tank truck, which belonged to the Brakhausen Oil Co., was being used to haul fuel oil from Green Bay to Oconto. Darouche was making his second trip of the day when the truck skidded on the wet pavement, crashed into the end of the culvert and overturned in the ditch, the debris catching fire.

The flames spread rapidly and in a short time all combustible parts of the big machine were destroyed. Witnesses, among whom was C. R. Phenix, vice president of the Wisconsin Public Service corporation, said attempts to get Darouche out of the wreckage were hampered by fears of an explosion in the liquids leaking from the tank, which was believed to be gasoline.

Give Your Wife the Comforts You Want Her to Enjoy

Most women know that electric cooking devices are most convenient—that they require but little attention—that they are clean, without dirt, ashes, fumes, grease or smoke to dirty the kitchen—that pots and pans are not stained and ruined—that hours of scrubbing and polishing are eliminated—and that the even, perfectly controlled heat assures better cooked foods without waste from shrinkage or burning.

Men are quick to adopt time and work saving devices for their offices. It means economy in the long run. Women should have equally as efficient, labor-saving equipment in their "offices"—the home.

Your wife would certainly appreciate your surprising her with a Hotpoint Electric Range with the new Electric Timer and Automatic Heat Control. Come in and let us help you select just the right style for her needs from our wide variety of models.

COMPLETION OF CHURCH BIGGEST EVENT OF YEAR

Appleton District of M. E. Church Makes Big Gains During Year

The dedication of the splendid new Methodist church in Appleton on Oct. 25 was the most important event in the Appleton district of the Methodist Episcopal church during the past year according to Dr. Richard Evans, district superintendent, who read a report of his work at the Wednesday meeting of the annual Wisconsin conference of the church in Appleton.

This church was built at a cost of $325,000, the report stated. Bishop Locks dedicated the church. Two other buildings dedicated during the year were the new addition to the church at Antigo and a new church at Shawano. Many of the churches in the district extensively repaired the buildings during the past year.

Nearly 800 new members came in to the Appleton district this year, Dr. Evans said. Appleton secured the greatest number of accessions, having 88 additions to the church membership. The total number of accessions was 760.

An upward trend in Sunday school management is shown in a review of the district, the superintendent believed. "Evidence of the consciousness of the need and effort toward meeting it, causes all who are vitally interested in the religious training of youth to thank God and take courage."

DEPENDS ON WOMEN

The continued existence of several of the smaller churches depends on the Ladies Aid societies, the speaker continued. "Indeed with some qualifications a similar statement can be said about some of the larger churches. If not the financial backbone of the churches the ladies' organizations constitute the financial ribs." Few of these societies raised less than $500 during the year and the Appleton women raised $6,600 for the church, he said.

Dr. Evans commended the administration of Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Lawrence college, and believed that the proposed changes to the curriculum would prove satisfactory. He spoke of the ambitious program of buildings and increased endowment projected last spring. This involves the raising and expenditures of $3,000,000 over a period of years.

More than 1,800 patients were treated at Green Bay in the Bellin Memorial hospital last year, the speaker said. This hospital "is rendering service to the sick that is far beyond its nominal capacity. The rooms and wards have been uniformly full. The total number of patients treated last year was 1,805. Of these 1,058 were surgical cases. "The fine quality of treatment is shown by the fact," he continued, "that mortality has been .0321 per cent. The urgent need of the hospital is money to liquidate the present indebtedness of $82,700, and to provide funds with which to erect an addition to the building."

DOGS FIND LIFE HARD ON STREETS OF GOTHAM

New York dogs lead a real "dog's life," compared with their country cousins. They must wear muzzles while on the streets, and are admonished by fashionably dressed mistresses or liveried chauffeurs not to bark at the traffic officers at busy street intersections. An ordinance prevents them from playing on the grass in city parks. A brass tag licensing their right to existence must be prominently displayed.

DRAW PLANS FOR JACKMAN PAVING

Hill Will Be Paved Next Year; Engineer Is Preparing Plans

Plans and specifications for the Jackman-st hill paving which will be laid next year are now being prepared by Robert M. Connelly, city engineer.

This street, which has been in bad condition for several years, was to have been paved this summer, according to the paving program laid out by the council last year, but so many delays were encountered that the city has dropped plans to complete the work until 1927.

When the pavement is laid, it is not only will give employees of mills on Water-st easier access to their places of work, but it will beautify a hill which is naturally attractive and which can be converted into a pleasant section according to city officials. According to tentative plans, the roadway will measure 27 feet. The pavement will extend approximately 530 feet from S. State-st to the bottom of the hill, and then 250 feet east on Water-st on the north side of the railroad tracks.

To enable the city to construct the pavement on the north side of the tracks and eliminate the necessity of crossing them, property holds have given the city enough land to carry out such plans.

The office of the Atlas mill, located on the northeast corner of the intersection of W. Water-st and Jackman-st, will be removed and the new roadway on W. Water-st will extend over the property on which the office is now located.

It is expected that work on the street will start as soon as weather conditions permit next year.

THE END OF BLAINEISM

The further the results of the primary are digested, the more satisfactory they become. They can only be regarded as a disapproval of the Blaine administration and Blaineism in Wisconsin. More than 400,000 voters changed their opinions from last year and two years ago. The governor goes into the senate a discredited politician who narrowly escaped defeat in a state that heretofore has given La Follette candidates colossal pluralities. The people have evidently been fed up on the kind of politics he typifies and are beginning to realize that instead of carrying out La Follette principles and ideals he has shamefully betrayed them.

There is as much difference between La Follette and Blaine government in Wisconsin as there is between a cat and a caterpillar. The late senator gave Wisconsin a notable administration in every respect, accompanied with reforms that changed the whole trend of politics and government, and all for the better. Mr. Blaine has nothing of the kind to his credit, but stands out chiefly for his cultivation of machine politics, backroom government, excessive taxes and extravagant use of public funds. If his administration had been that of a so-called reactionary, it would have been painted in the blackest colors by Mr. La Follette and the Progressive organization.

Government of this kind can "get by" for only a limited period. It cannot perpetuate itself by falsely representing that it was conducted in the name of Progress and in memory of Wisconsin's great departed leader. The revolt against it has been emphatic and ominous all over the state. In fact, it was so pronounced it is no exaggeration to say that Blaineism has been routed, cap, stick and bag; to the tune of 50,000 in Mr. Ekern's case. What a remarkable change in the political situation in the brief time since Mr. La Follette's death! A crowd of quarreling, designing, little politicians has all but wrecked the edifice set up by the late senator. It has set the Progressive movement back many years and in all probability the next administration in this state will be conservative. Even now, the Blaine machine is ousted completely from control in state affairs, and an anti-Blaine, anti-Bob La Follette, Jr., anti-Ekern candidate is to become governor. Plainly, the end of this combination is in sight. We shall hear less of the Progressive party as such, while nationally the organization is, of course, dead. People have been over-fed on the exaggerations of its leaders, and the kind of excesses and politics practiced in its name.

As we said in the beginning, the more the primary election is surveyed, the more it becomes a matter for public congratulation and rejoicing, this despite the unfortunate loss of Mr. Lenroot in the senate.

CALLES SEES THE LIGHT

From the tone of President Calles' message upon the opening of the thirty-second Mexican congress, it would appear that he has at last seen the light and is ready to meet the United States' demands in regard to the Mexican oil and land laws, which this country has claimed were unreasonable and discriminatory. In fact, President Calles devoted considerable time to explaining that he thought it was up to Mexico to take all steps necessary to insure a continuation of amicable relations with the United States.

This attitude, he explained, did not include the religious controversy, which he considered strictly a Mexican situation with no international aspect whatever. In this he is right and the United States has at present no intention and should have no intention of taking any stand on the matter. With the oil and land measures, however, it is a different question and American investors will be pleased to find that reason is at last to prevail below the Rio Grande and that their investments will be safeguarded by amicable agreements with this country. President Calles has taken a wise step.

FOR AUTONOMY

The Philippine House of Representatives has done the expected thing. It has passed, by an overwhelming vote, and over the veto of Governor General Leonard Wood, a bill providing for a plebiscite in the islands on the question of independence. This completes the expression of the official Filipino feeling on the subject, as the senate of the islands passed a similar measure a month ago. This action will bring the entire matter officially before President Coolidge, for he must sign the bill before it can be a law and if he vetoes it the measure will be dead and of no value.

It was in anticipation of this action on the part of the Philippine congress that President Coolidge recently sent Carni Thompson to the islands to make an investigation for his personal information. Since President Coolidge has six months before he needs to take action on the measure passed by the Philippine law-making body he has ample time to consider all phases of the situation and digest the complete report which will be submitted to him by Mr. Thompson.

Indications now point to the conclusion that Mr. Thompson's report will be negative, and, in that case, there is little doubt that the president will veto the autonomy plebiscite measure and recommend legislation to be passed by the United States congress whereby a certain definite period of further American protection for the Philippines shall be proclaimed, within which no further moves for independence for the islands will be considered.

This would seem to be a wise and prudent course, which would permit not only the natives to become more fitted for self-government but would develop the islands themselves, commercially, to the point where an island nation would be self-supporting and prosperous.

ENLARGED ADENOIDS AND INCONTINENCE

Among the conditions which physicians frequently presume responsible for bed wetting and the correction or removal of which so often fails to correct habit, are enlargement of adenoids and tonsils in children and girls. Of course congenital phimosis requires circumcision in any case. If this is neglected or postponed in infancy it may be done later in childhood. But in the majority of cases in which circumcision is done with the hope that it will correct the bed wetting habit and without an actual need of it—that is to say, where the phimosis does not interfere with urination or with cleanliness—the result is disappointing.

In a considerable number of cases in which enlarged adenoid bodies or enlarged tonsils or both are removed with the hope of correcting a habit of bed wetting in children over 3 years of age (bed wetting up to the age of 3 years is not necessarily abnormal), the result is a happy one, not only in the general improvement of the child's physical and mental vigor but in the correction of the nocturnal incontinence.

When these surgical remedies are applied in any case for the correction of bed wetting, no positive results should be expected until several weeks after the operation. Even in the most favorable circumstances a child does not cease wetting the bed until two or three weeks after the removal of the adenoid obstruction or the circumcision.

Enlargement of a "growth" because that conveys the suggestion of a "growth" and parents should know that the adenoid body is a normal structure in the roof of the throat cavity, a structure of the same character as the tonsils, having identical functions and subject to the same disease conditions as are the tonsils, is one of the most common causes of obstruction of breathing through the nose. But there are several other causes of obstruction which are nearly as common among children. In many instances in which removal of large adenoid masses proves disappointing in results, the explanation is that there are present other causes of nasal obstruction which require treatment. Among these are polyps in the nasal passages, enlarged or thickened turbinate bodies (the "bones" or spurs) of the nasal chambers, overlooked sinus infection, and sometimes overlooked foreign body lodged in the nasal passage.

The presence of any such obstruction of the nose causes deficient oxidation of the blood, produces anemia, often headache, and in most cases night-mare or other disturbance of sleep. It is during the night-mare that the urine is passed. The normal or voluntary control of the sphincter or purse string muscle of the urinary bladder is in abeyance during sleep.

Children over 3 years of age who wet the bed should have any nasal obstruction properly treated, whether by surgical or by medical or other means, but the proper treatment of any such condition is by no means the only treatment the bed wetting habit calls for. Children under 3 years of age who wet the bed require no particular treatment other than ordinary training.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cutis Anserina

I am a girl aged 17 and whenever it becomes a bit cold or every time I go in swimming my legs and arms become covered with bluish or red spots. They do not bother me, but are so unsightly. Sometimes when the water is very cold blotches that appear on my body, but they leave as soon as I put on my clothes. (D. D.)

Answer—Perhaps an exceptionally marked case of Cutis anserina, a mild form of keratosis pilaris or ichthiosis. Less formidable under its popular name of "gooseflesh." The only remedy I can suggest is an oiling or greasing of the skin before exposure to the cold air or cold water.

The meeting place was in a beautiful field, a suitable place for such a tender romance.

As she came over the field she perceived a figure in the distance. She hastened toward it and as she came nearer she beheld the knight of her dreams. He was tall and strong and very tanned which was probably due to his outdoor work.

She stopped and watched him but he did not pay the slightest attention to her; for he seemed lost in thought. She looked up into his face with her beautiful black eyes. A glance that would melt a heart of stone—but still he did not move.

She gave him a kiss on his sun-tanned cheek and twas then she discovered the terrible truth. She hastened away with the terrible grief of a disappointed sweetheart. — But then—what could be expected—cause she was a crow and he was a scarecrow.

"Yes, with my clothes; I used to wear hers."

Q. Please give the base principles and methods of the handling of the United States mail. R. D. W.

A. The Post Office Department says that mail is dropped in the box, picked up by the collector, and placed on the facing table in the Post Office. It is then picked up with all the stamps arranged according to the size of the envelope, and run through the cancelling machine. The mail is then taken to a primary distributor, and there assorted into various boxes; then taken to a state case where it is distributed according to offices in the State and tied out in bundles according to train schedules. When it reaches the office to which it is addressed it is distributed by clerks to routes in the city by numbers, each number representing a city carrier.

The city carrier on his next trip delivers the mail to the street address of the party addressed.

Minor Errors Are Found In Canvass

In attaining accuracy it appeared doubtful if the canvass could be completed before late afternoon or possibly Saturday morning.

Tally sheets were being scrutinized under a powerful magnifying lens to eliminate potential mistakes as the work progressed.

That the result of the board's findings will only bear on the candidacy for nomination for sheriff was virtually conceded by interested persons.

Although minor mistakes may be brought to light involving totals accorded to other nominees it is estimated that majorities were great enough in each instance so that a few votes one way or the other would not assume enough importance to warrant recounting to precipitate a contest. What tangled skeins of political disputes may remain to be unravelled are held in abeyance awaiting official termination of the canvass. Contests, recounts and protests, regarding which considerable vague report has been circulated, it appears, have not reached a point where any direct action is contemplated until an official stamp has been put on the figures returned from the 46 polling places.

CLOSE SCHOOL AFTER QUARRY BLAST DAMAGE

Rain Ruins Interior of Building When Rock Breaks Roof and Windows Are Smashed

Special to Post-Crescent
Seymour—Blasting operations at the quarry, about a block from Pioneer school, followed by a heavy rain, so badly damaged the building that it was necessary to close school Wednesday. A large hole was torn through the roof by a falling stone and six windows were shattered Monday by the force of the explosion when a charge was set off at the quarry. The debris was cleared away, and school was in session as usual on Tuesday.

On Tuesday evening, however, rain was driven through the broken windows and through the hole in the roof, flooding the floor of the building, and ruining the walls and ceiling, which had been redecorated during the summer. The damage is now being repaired. Miss Warrine Sherman is teacher of the school.

The workmen were preparing to crush stone for the town of Osborn roads at the time of the blast.

The 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tomas, route 1, Seymour, fell from a hay mow at home to the floor below, fracturing both arms at the wrists, and breaking his nose, while he was playing on the mow with his brothers. He is recovering.

The St. Mary's Group No. 3 gave a social in their hall Monday evening. At a meeting of the Altar society Sunday morning it was decided they give a social some time in the near future and raise money for a marker for Eli Skendandore's grave. It was at his home in 1859 under a large butternut tree that Miss P. Lockman, then pastor of the Freedom church made his first converts among the Oneidas and at his home where services were held until there were enough converts to build a church. He donated the acres of land for church and cemetery, in 1891 and a small church was built. There is now a beautiful new church and school on the grounds and to show their appreciation of his work and devotion members of the church wish to place a marker on his now unmarked grave.

Mexican Laws Since 1913 Are Illegal, Former Revolutionist Says

New Orleans—Mexico has not had a legal government or a legal constitution since 1913, and the only basis on which its present government and constitution rest is the illegal one of armed force.

This is the blunt statement of Gen. Felix Diaz, nephew of the famous Don Porfirio Diaz, who held office as president of Mexico for a longer time than any other man before or since.

Gen. Diaz is living quietly on a secluded New Orleans residence street, a fugitive and exile from the land of his birth. Instigator of three revolutions since the overthrow of his uncle's government 15 years ago, he strove for years to win the place of his famous namesake. Failing, he took refuge in the United States to escape a firing squad.

DENONCES CALLES' REGIME
In an exclusive interview, the first he has given since he entered this country, he gives his opinion of the present Mexican regime and its acts.

"I am of the opinion that the religious laws, the anti-alien laws and the all laws are null and void, and since they are so it is useless to analyze them," he says.

"Since Oct. 10, 1913, when Victoriano Huerta dissolved the Mexican congress, every law that has been passed has been illegal, and continues illegal. The constitution of 1917 especially has been condemned as illegal by many prominent lawyers.

"The latest decrees of President Calles regarding the religious question are absurd. They are absurd because they violate the same constitution they are invoked to fulfill.

"President Calles has no legal power to make these laws. He is not legally qualified to act as president, and while the religious laws violate article 49 of the constitution of 1917, that constitution itself has never been legally adopted."

"The," he was asked, "your view is that since Oct. 10, 1913, all Mexico has had has been a series of illegal dictators, remaining in power only so long as they could maintain themselves by force of arms, and passing laws that are null and void as far as legal procedure is concerned?"

"Yes, that is the situation," replied Gen. Diaz.

The constitution of 1857, which was in force when Porfirio Diaz' government fell, provided that all amendments should be passed by congress and approved by a majority of state legislators. This procedure, Gen. Diaz says, was not followed when Carranza's men adopted the constitution of 1917 hence that constitution is void.

Gen. Diaz asked to be excused from discussing the possibility of a new revolution in Mexico. As an exile living in the United States, he said, it would not be fitting for him to predict armed disturbances in Mexico.

His own career, up to the time he

Eight Women in Ten

have discarded old hygienic methods for this new way—true protection—discards like tissue

WHEN the world started expecting more of women, the old-time "sanitary pad" had to go. Doctors urge a new way. Millions employ it. You wear sheerest frocks without a second thought, any time, anywhere. You meet every day unhandicapped.

It is called "KOTEX" . . . five times as absorbent as the ordinary cotton pad!

Thoroughly deodorizes . . . thus ending ALL fear of offending. Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

You ask for it without hesitancy simply by saying "KOTEX," at any drug or department store. Costs only a few cents. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk.

GENERAL FELIX DIAZ

fled to this country, reads like a romantic novel.

Educated, as the nephew of the president, at Chapultepec, Mexico's famous military academy, he was graduated with honors and became chief of police of the federal district, with headquarters in Mexico City. Next he became governor of the state of Oaxaca, and was in charge there when Madero led his successful revolt against the aging dictator.

HELD IN DUNGEON
In 1912 he led a revolt against the Madero government and established headquarters at Vera Cruz. Federal forces captured the city and imprisoned him in a subterranean dungeon in the castle of San Juan de Ula. He was later removed to Mexico City, where he gained freedom, and, a year later, organized a new revolution.

This revolt had better success, and Madero fell and Victoriano Huerta arose to power. Diaz ran for president at the next election, but Huerta managed to get him out of the country and won the election himself.

In 1920, Diaz started another revolt. This also failed and he was captured, with excellent prospects of facing a firing squad. But his life was spared on condition that he leave the country.

and since that time he has been living in New Orleans.

STRANGE SCENES AS DAUGHERTY GOES ON TRIAL

President Maker and Old
School Politician Faces
Prison Term

BY GENE COHN

New York—The frame work of the picture in which sits "the biggest man that ever went to criminal trial" is bafflingly old-fashioned—like long hair and red flannel underwear.

In the center of it sits the chief defendant—Harry M. Daugherty, one time attorney-general.

He belongs to a generation that chewed tobacco when it talked politics and, with unerring aim, could hit a knothole in the floor. He chews tobacco in court, with an old-fashioned spittoon handy—a spittoon, not a cuspidor.

Such archaic words as "muckrake" are heard in the lobby and political methods are mentioned which, however alive today, sound oddly antiquated.

ONLY $391.000
Even the sums of money mentioned seem old-fashionedly small, when one recalls modern-day bootleg operations.

This leisurely, hulking Daugherty is charged with peddling his honor as a cabinet member, his post as head of the department of justice, for a paltry $391,000.

It is averred, was the amount of a bribe given for speeding up the claim for the delivery of seven millions in stock of the German-owned American Metals Company seized during the war.

Ironically enough, the manipulation of this property of a one-time enemy was shared, according to the charges, by Col. Thomas Miller, a founder of the national executive council. Miller was at the time alien property custodian.

No one seeks to conceal the feeling that the entire Harding administration is on trial; that the skeletons which have rattled of graft and intrigue are ready for a belated dance. All these are stark and dramatic realities; yet the feeling of unreality persists.

There is the old-fashioned tobacco chewing defendant. The ancient federal building. The high-ceilinged and severe court room with its long bare benches, stepping one on top of another like circus seats.

A novelist sits talking notes for a future book.
William Travis Jerome, Thav prosecutor, now of the defense, is ultra-theatrical. He wears a palm beach suit of immaculate linen, his hair has become almost white and his deportment is the apotheosis of dignity.

"BABY PROSECUTORS"
In contrast are the youthful cohorts of the prosecution. Emory R. Buckner, a mere United States attorney attacking a one-time attorney general. Some have whimsically called it the "baby prosecution," for the assistant of Buckner are eager, zealous youths, scarcely one above 30.

The inevitable Buckner blackboard is in view. This means, of course, the "A-B-C" method of presenting his case, used in the recent motion picture trials.

In contrast, too, are the jurors, salesmen, business men, brokers, engineers, a box-maker, a jewelry salesman, an insurance solicitor—such must pass on "the president-maker."

A president may be impeached but never brought to public trial. A member of a president's cabinet has never before in history stood so accused.

Even the judge's wife is there—in a fashionable street dress. The "younger generation" crowds the lobby waiting seats. More than half of these are bobbed-haired girls from the universities eager for disillusionment. Their tales will go back to the campus and spread from youth to youth. These future voters will tolerate no "old-fashioned" politics. Their frank and cynical comments tell the story.

NOTED NEW YORK ORCHESTRA ON ARTIST PROGRAM

Musical Critics Lavish in Praise of New York Little Symphony

George Barrere's New York Little Symphony orchestra, said to be the finest little orchestra in the world, will appear in Appleton at the Lawrence Memorial chapel on March 25 as one of the five performances of the Community Artist series. It possesses all the charm of a full symphony orchestra and at the same time a sweetness and subtle charm which is lost in the larger E orchestra, critics of music say.

This miniature orchestra has had a success in New York achieved only by the best of artistic ventures, and it has been recalled each season with an appreciative enthusiasm. The selections, critics say, are seemingly well adapted to this number of players and several criticisms give special mention to the exquisite playing of Haydn's "Schoolmaster" symphony.

EASY TO LISTEN TO
Easy music to listen to is played by the New York Little Symphony orchestra, it is said, and the qualities of charm and good taste have made many friends for this small group of artists. Among the most delightful musical occasions of the New York season of 1924-1925 were the concerts conducted by George Barrere, according to the verdict from that city.

The Community Artist series will have four other exceptional numbers on its program this season, among them the famous Tito Schipa, premier tenor, on Oct. 26; Sousa's band, on Oct. 14; The English Singers of London on Feb. 21 and a joint recital by Leo Ornstein, composer-pianist, and Henry Farberman, violinist, on March 4. The Little Symphony orchestra will conclude the program.

FACES TRIAL BECAUSE HE NEGLECTS FAMILY

Martin Bronhold, New London, charged with failure to support his wife and one child, was bound over to trial Sept. 17 in the higher branch of municipal court after preliminary examination before Judge Theodore Berg on Thursday afternoon.

The young man, according to his wife, has not worked for some months and has not given anything toward support of his family in three months. Asked by the court if he would be willing to leave with Mrs. Bronhold for West Virginia the husband emphatically declared he would not.

Bond was set at $500 and Bronhold was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Peter G. Schwartz.

EAST IN NEED OF MORE MISSIONS

Women Have Best Opportunity to Help Workers in Foreign Fields

"Missionary work in the Orient is not nearly done and there is grave danger to the down-trodden people of those foreign lands in lightening our missionary efforts," said Miss Bertha Creek, field secretary of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church at 10'clock Thursday afternoon at the foreign missionary meeting of the annual Wisconsin conference of the church in Appleton.

More than half of the women and girls in China still have bound feet, there are more than 25,000,000 Mohammedan countries, and yet the interest in this country is not the vital thing that the situation demands, she speaker said. People with a vision are needed in the churches today and the logical members of the churches for this vision are the women, she maintained. The women are the leisure class of the church population, she believed, for their work occupies them chiefly in the morning. What better for them than to study and help with the missionary problem, than to see the needs of these women and girls in foreign countries.

Miss Creek has done foreign mission work for the Methodist church in Japan and Korea, did educational work abroad, taught in India under the Indian Educational code prepared by English educationalists and prepared for Oxford and Cambridge entrance examinations. Her talk Thursday afternoon was chiefly concerned with glimpses of life in these Oriental countries.

Grow Hair this New Way!

An entirely new method of scalp treatment has been perfected. It is not a tonic. It is totally unlike anything you have seen or heard of before. Its simplicity will delight you. Its results amaze. But one application each week or two is needed for most scalp troubles. It leaves no after-odor—no greasy effect. Everything is just delightful.

Guarantee in Writing
Many extravagant claims have been made before. Often the public has been deceived. But note our fair offer.

This method must stop falling hair. Must destroy dandruff. Must bring new hair health and beauty. Must even grow hair — or money back. There are no strings to this guarantee. It is in writing. It appears in every package. You are fully protected.

Seborrhea Cause of Troubles
Well may you wonder at such a broad guarantee. But this treatment is not a mere tonic. We have studied hair troubles scientifically—and discovered some amazing facts. We found that the hair bulbs seldom die from natural causes. They don't come out with the hair. But frequently they become weakened. Then hair troubles commence. Seborrhea is in most often the cause. Infection sets in. The hair now becomes dull, lifeless and starts falling excessively.

READ WHAT THESE STIM USERS SAY
WONDERFUL
"It is a wonderful treatment. My hair was bald almost and now I have it all back. I used STIM my hair has all grown back."
(Miss M. L. Young, Chicago, Ill.)
"My hair is white and I never knew it would be so pretty. It fairly platters after a STIM treatment."
(Mrs. J. B. D., Chicago, Ill.)

— MEN, TOO —
"I have been using STIM and find it the best thing for baldness and hair about my temples."
(E. S., Birmingham, Ala.)

But here is the marvelous thing. Remove infection — stimulate dormant hair bulbs to renewed activity. Thick, lustrous and luxuriant again.

New Method Combats It
Now we have found a way of combating Seborrhea. A new method for stimulating hair growth. This treatment is called STIM. Its success is amazing. It stops falling hair as if by magic. Removes dandruff with a treatment of two. The hair is thicker and lustre and gives it a new radiance and lustre that will surprise and delight you.

Results Now Guaranteed
No matter what your condition—or how many "tonics" you have used without avail—you now owe it to yourself to give this scientific method a fair trial. Remember this is no ordinary tonic. It is a new method for stimulating hair growth. It stops falling hair as if by magic. Removes dandruff with a treatment of two. The hair is thicker and lustre and gives it a new radiance and lustre that will surprise and delight you.

It must stop falling hair. Must destroy dandruff. Must stimulate hair growth and beauty—or it costs you nothing. You are the sole judge. In every package is our written guarantee that results must satisfy you or your money will be refunded. Could we possibly make you a fairer offer? We urge you to accept it today. # COUNTRY HASN'T GIVEN FAIR SHOW TO PROHIBITION

Methodist Dry Leader Says No Real Enforcement Effort Has Been Made

"We must re-teach the principles of temperance," Dr. Clarence True Wilson, Washington, D. C., corresponding secretary, board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, said at the Wisconsin annual conference at 7:30 Thursday evening. About 700 people attended the address.

O. D. Cannon of Antigo presided at the meeting. Dr. F. J. Harman, of the Anti-Solon league also talked.

"We are facing a generation of young people who have grown up since the temperance situation was acute," said Dr. Wilson. "The last ten years we have slowed down on the teaching function."

"We must begin to teach this generation all over again the facts and principles that made the temperance movement; that alcohol is not a food but a poison; that moderation cannot be depended upon in the use of a habit forming, irritant, narcotic drug; that even total abstinence does not serve the problem, while we continue to manufacture drunkards by the license permit system; that to manufacture and sell poison for a beverage is not a business but a crime against society; that the public welfare demands that the state must stop it at all hazards; that prohibition, therefore, is the ultimate remedy for these evils."

NEVER TRIED
"Prohibition has been tried and found wanting," said a critic of conditions that he had not tried to better. But the truth is, prohibition was found difficult, and therefore, not tried.

"To live these Christian ideals in a world like this is not the pastime of an hour, nor a easy drift with things as they are, but a manly, hero-born, martyr-bred, self-sacrificing, cross-bearing work of a lifetime. The world does not grow better by easy processes. It is revolutionary for our Christian nation to stop raising men to make money and begin to use money to make better men," Dr. Wilson declared.

"We have undertaken to show the world that America can live without rum, educate her children without turning them into drunkards or drunkards' wives, run our government and meet our war debt without putting up the souls of our citizens for sale for dirt revenue. If we can make good on this undertaking, it will sweep the world, and Lincoln's dream will come true—A world without a slave or a drunkard in it. If we fail, it would set back one of the greatest moral triumphs of Christianity for a century. We are not going to fail."

200 MARTYRS
"Men have been called upon to work in the most dangerous position the country affords, namely: in the prohibition unit, for hundreds of dollars less than they would have secured in other departments of the same unit for lesser service as killed martyrs have been listed as killed by trying to enforce the prohibition law, but whenever a bootlegger has been shot by an officer in self-defense, that officer has been put up and tried for murder with little help from the department he was serving."

"Prohibition, therefore, has not yet had a fair chance or a free field or a clear swing at the enemy."

"What this case needed to handle it was Theodore Roosevelt—or some one of the other millions of real prohibitionists who believe in the cause and would sacrifice for it; or some virile leader like Will H. Hayes, who became postmaster general when crimes against the postoffice were almost as daring as the bootleggers' war against the government is now, but by one order written on his first week in office he put a new phase on the situation and notified every criminal in the land that there was a man on the job. From that day holdups on the mail routes ceased to be the custom. If we could have had the same generalship and leadership for our prohibition forces, bootlegging would be as scarce as mail robberies in every state in the union."

"We should punish the buyer as well as the seller of poisoned bootleg liquor. It is the buyer who brings the bootlegger to violate the law for him. There is no patriot who is any cleaner or more patriotic than the bootlegger he creates and supports."

Dr. Hartman traced the history of the fight for prohibition and told of the fight which had been led by the women of the land. He scored the three administrations that have held office during the coming of prohibition because of their failure to appoint a man who would enforce the law as it should be enforced.

"Give prohibition a fair chance, before you denounce it as a failure," said Dr. Hartman.

The Appleton Ministerial quartet sang several songs during the evening.

STUDY GOSPELS TO INVITE Y. M. C. A. LEARN TO THINK LIKE THE SAVIOUR SUPPORTERS TO HELP PLAN DRIVE

But Study Must Be Hard and Clear, Dr. Bugbee Tells Ministers

Begin Preparations for All-year Membership Solicitation Hereafter

"Take the general attitude of Jesus Christ toward life and follow this through and you will know the mind of Christ today," Dr. Lucius H. Bugbee, author and minister, of Minneapolis, said in the second of his series of addresses on the Christ Today at the meeting of the Annual Wisconsin conference of the Methodist Episcopal church at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the First Methodist church of Appleton. The Rev. E. Burns Martin presided at the meeting.

Dr. Bugbee recommended to everyone, and ministers, particularly, that if they would know the mind of Christ, they must study his teachings in the four Gospels of the New Testament of the Bible. This study cannot be a superficial reading, he said. "It means hard and clear and long thinking and the growth of a Christian consciousness."

"It is the separate task of each individual to find out what Christ means in human relation and interests. The employer of labor must make it his first business to find this out before he can know what his true attitude should be toward that labor. Our task is to find out what Christ means for our particular station in life."

"Life is a much more complicated thing in its relations than it was in the time of the Nazarene," Dr. Bugbee said. "At that time speed was measured by the speed of a horse or a camel. The communications of thought and interest were necessarily slower, more simple to adjust, to understand. The machinery of recreation, alone, had not been developed as it is today. But the underlying general attitude is the same. Christ's standards of truth and Christian consciousness were essentially the same, and it is our task today to find those standards."

MEASURE BY CHARACTER
"Jesus Christ thought of all things as character values rather than as physical values and interests. He thought of all things in terms of love and sacrifice. Today to be sure, these two factors enter into some of our closer relations as the family, but do they enter the larger human relationships? To know the mind of Christ today, we must work out this problem of human relationships."

"The world was essentially good, in the thought of Jesus," Dr. Bugbee said. "Therefore, he was not blinded by the dust of apparent failure for in the long vista in the proper perspective, he saw the good will of God. It is only when we see the world in this light that we can hope for the power of the mind of Jesus, that we shall be no longer in that mental state with Peter, to whom Jesus said, 'Peter, you think like a man, you do not think like God.'"

"We build our thought houses out of the material we find lying nearest to us, lying closest to our experience. Therefore, if we would think like God and not as a man we should delve into the thought and life of Jesus Christ, making his life the material lying nearest to us."

Mr. Bugbee was born in Glendale, Ohio, April 29, 1874 and was educated in the public schools of Evanston, Ill., and at Boston university where he received the degree of A. B. The degree of M. A. was conferred on him by the University of Chicago. He has since traveled abroad, particularly in the Orient and received the degree of D. D. from Grove City college, Penn. A minister of the Methodist Episcopal church for 23 years, Dr. Bugbee served many pastorates. He is the author of live books on religious topics, the last one of which was "Christ Today."

EICHMEYER SUCCEEDS BOYNTON AT Y. M. C. A.
R. M. Eichmeyer, office and business secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was appointed membership and activities secretary at a meeting of directors Wednesday noon at the association for a short trip to Michigan. They will make their home at Milwaukee, where the groom is employed.

Three hundred members and supporters of the Y. M. C. A. will be invited to attend a banquet and meeting at 6:15 Wednesday evening at the association building to complete plans for the annual membership campaign which will be held from Sept. 27 to Oct. 1. All men active in campaigns of the last two years will be invited. It was decided Wednesday noon at the meeting of the board of directors. A round-table discussion of the campaign problems based on past drives and the preparation of plans for the 1926 drive will take place at the meeting.

The campaign this year will be conducted as a roundup. Ranch names and ideas will be used by the teams and their leaders.

President F. J. Harwood was authorized to appoint the membership committee to plan a program of all-year-round membership activities. Chairmen of activities committees of the association will be appointed soon and these, with the secretary, will put the year's activities program underway. Mr. Harwood said.

John W. Pugh, boys' work secretary, presented a plan for securing renewals and new boys' memberships before the regular campaign opened. It was approved by the board. The board authorized Mr. Pugh to offer group memberships to church groups or classes at reduced rates. If the church will handle them, it also was decided to reorganize a prep class for boys from 10 to 12 years of age. This was tried a few years ago and will be started again this fall.

SHERIFF RUNS HIS BUSINESS ON CASH BASIS

Its Either Work or Pay When Judge Has His Little Say

You can buy your diamond, fur coat, trousers, washing machine, or what have you?—on time, but this greatest benefaction or curse, whichever way you view it, of modern society—the installment or deferred payment plan of payment has failed to cause even a ripple in the placid routine of one branch of expenditures in Outagamie-co.

If you are ordered to pay a fine for any crime or misdemeanor—Sheriff Peter G. Schwartz takes charge of your immediate actions until you pay—in cash.

If cash is elusive you face the alternative of gracefully, or otherwise—it is immaterial to the law—spending your time in the county jail on a per diem basis of $1 for each 24 hours until the fine, and costs, is "worked out," to the full satisfaction of the debt.

Time that may be spent as Mr. Schwartz' guest is not deductible from the total—you either serve it all or pay it all, in theory. This applies to instances where financial assistance is forthcoming before the amount of the fine is paid up through the per diem deductions.

In rare instances where the personal recognition of the person fined is of such high calibre that it would make a Bradstreet investigator grin his most gleeful "4-A-Plus," pays on demand, grin, he may be allowed time to get to his bank or friends for cash. Occasionally in the cases of minors arrested for petty misdemeanors the court allows a little time latitude but in the vast majority of cases it is pay or go to jail. No collection trouble has ever arisen here, it was reported Thursday.

Several sheriffs in the state, principally at Madison, have had some difficulty in collecting fines where transgressors have been treated leniently in the matter of raising funds, press dispatches indicate.

Little Chute Lady Now Well

Tells remarkable story of relief brought by new remedy Drecto. Says she's like another woman.

"For the first time in eight years I am enjoying good health and I give all the credit to this Drecto that is being introduced by the Drecto man at Schillitz Bros. Drug Store," says Mrs. Nick Helf of Little Chute, a suburb of Appleton, wife of the well-known tender at the Little Chute Paper Mills.

"My whole system was completely rundown when I started on Drecto. My stomach filled with gas and acids almost as soon as I started to eat and I was bloated up and belching all the time. I had gnawing pains in my abdomen, was subject to cramps and shooting pains around my heart and could hardly breathe at times. I was in such pain I hated to eat because of the suffering I knew I would go through afterward. I slept poorly, always felt tired and weak and at times couldn't do even the slightest work around the house."

"Besides suffering with my stomach I was also troubled with dizzy spells, weak kidneys, rheumatism and headaches and was so nervous I couldn't bear having my grandchildren play around the house."

"But since taking Drecto I am a new woman. I feel ten years younger and all my suffering has ended. My stomach is now in excellent condition, my bowels are regular, the dizzy spells, rheumatism and nervousness have all been relieved and I eat, sleep and feel like a young girl again."

The good old fashioned roots and herbs, barks and leaves like our forefathers brewed their teas from and raised a hardy race of people, are still recognized as the best remedies for the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels and blood. Drecto is made from twelve herbal plants and its action is prompt and pleasant for man, woman or child. Mr. W. V. Martin, the well-known expert from the Drecto Laboratories now at Schillitz Bros. downtown drug store, is telling scores of people every day how to take Drecto for best results. Go to see him.

When we open our new AMPICO HALL we will have the largest showing of HIGH GRADE GRANDS ever displayed in one store in Wisconsin.

Glorious rhythm that snaps even the old folks out of their chairs. Irresistible jazz that brings the neighbors in and makes your home a meeting-place for all. This great happiness is yours when you have the Ampico.

Then when your mood is more serious, such famous masters as Rachmaninoff, Lhévinne, Schnitzer, Phillip Gordon, and many others will play to you. And so wonderfully does the Ampico re-enact their interpretations of the most glorious music written for the piano, that you cannot detect a shade of difference when you hear them in person on the concert stage.

The Ampico may be had in the Chickering, which for over a hundred years has been singing its way into the heart of each successive generation. A piano that is justly famous for its supreme artistic eloquence.

HOMANS DRIVE HOME 12 RUNS TO BEAT BANKERS

Truckmen One Up on Bankers in City Championship Series

Kaukauna—Homans' soft ball team walloped the Bankers 12 to 9 in the second game of the "city's" little world series. Homans are now leading in the series with one game won and none lost. Wednesday's night game was 13 to 13 tie when was called at the end of the seventh because of darkness.

Errors by the Bankers were responsible for many of the runs made by Homans. Homans also outplayed the Bankers. H. Olm on the mound for the Bankers was just a trifle wobbly at times while Carl Rennie pitched steady ball for the truckmen. Homans wasted no time in getting out to the front for they scored two runs in the first inning. The Bankers could not get going until the second and then they got only one run. Homans players kept walloping out hits in the third until six men were brought home. The Bankers made a feeble effort in their half of the third and managed to score one man. Hits by Garvey and "Lardy" Brenzel brought the former home for the ninth Homans score of the game. Every thing was quiet until the last of the fifth when hits by Bayorgson and Hansen sent Bayorgson home.

The Bankers were beginning to show signs of life at the plate and were peeping things up in the field. Olm hit the sixth and came home on an overthrow to third. The Money men loosened up a bit in the last inning and Peters, Brenzel and C. Phillips scored for the trucks. Amey Bayorgson, it is feared, broke his collar bone when he tripped over the extended leg of Griffith. Homans' first sacker in the sixth inning. A big Banker rally was put across in the seventh but it was three runs shy of tying the score. F. Olm slammed out a home run for the Bankers in this inning. Four runs were scored by Spindler, Hansen, Weitenbach and Mulholland.

The two teams meet again Friday evening at the municipal playgrounds. The lineup: Bankers—Olm, Spindler, Hansen, Mulholland, Brenzel, Olm, Wahlers, Weitenbach, Johnson and Bayorgson. Homans—C. Rennie, Peters, Towsey, Griffith, Garvey, J. Phillips, C. Phillips, Brenzel, Ruggles and Nichols.

ELEPHANT AND TOBACCO SPELLS TROUBLE

Elephants and tobacco simply don't mix.

Minnie, one of the best natured elephants in circus history, had to be taken out of her show because she showed such a dangerous animosity toward one man who had given her tobacco. Any old circus hand can tell you stories of fatalities which occurred because some malicious circus goer fed tobacco to the animals.

Because this happened on one occasion in the Miller Bros. 101 Ranch Wild West Show, it was used in the climax of one of the most thrilling and spectacular pictures of the season, "The Big Show," a production showing the tumult of the life that goes on behind the scenes of a circus and wild West show, and a picture of exceptional novelty and atmosphere because it was filmed of and in the Miller Bros. Show, many of the show performers taking part.

The story is from the pen of L. Case Russell, and is an Associated Exhibitors release. John Lowell and Evangeline Russell hold the leading roles, with a good cast supporting them, and George Terwilliger as director.

This picture will be the feature attraction at the New Bijou Theatre today and Saturday.

"COVERED WAGON" AUTHOR'S LAST SCREEN STORY

"The Ship of Souls," last opus from the pen of Emerson Hough, and a widely circulated novel, has been made into a powerful drama for the screen and is showing at Fischer's Appleton Theatre.

The author of the justly famous "Covered Wagon" and "North of 36" was never in finer fettle than when writing this northland drama of snows and silence, and the destiny that hovers over those who penetrate into the heart of the northern wilds and fall prey to the lure of the north.

"The Ship of Souls" so runs the underlying theme of the story, drifts above the north clouds, and when the crew calls a man, he goes, never to return.

Langley Barnes, the hero, retreated to the solitudes and waste places of the north, to assuage his grief and bitterness over the loss of his fortune, and the subsequent loss of his wife, who ran away with another man.

In the last little stronghold on the border of civilization the eternal struggle presents itself, sister against sister for the love of a man who is unable to marry either.

The popular pair, Lillian Rich and Bert Lytell hold the stellar roles, and perhaps were never better cast. Supporting them is an imposing array of players, including Cyril Chadwick, always an efficient heavy, Russell Simpson, in one of the best character parts he has ever carried, and Gertrude Astor, Earl Metcalf, Inez Seabury, Jean Perry, Pete Maurer, W. J. Miller and Captain Jack Irwin. U. S. A., who appeared in and supervised the radio scenes.

MERCHANTS CARS ON AVENUE CAUSE MOST CONGESTION

Police Survey Shows Who Uses College-ave Parking
Stalls

The parking situation on College-ave has become so acute that a police survey is underway with the object of establishing a basis from which police, business men and citizens may determine a solution which will not interfere with parking by persons downtown on shopping expeditions. It was announced by Police Chief George T. Prim on Thursday.

Preliminary work was undertaken by the department early Thursday morning and findings will be laid before the Appleton retailers from time to time as statistics become available, Chief Prim said.

"From constant contact with parking needs here," Chief Prim declared, "it appears that the very persons most apt to be adversely affected when parking congestion interferes with business are in a large measure directly responsible for bringing about the condition that causes complaint."

A check of machines on the main traffic arteries of the city proves conclusively that a large percentage of the total number of automobiles parked along the streets at any given hour of the business day are cars owned by the business men themselves, men in offices upstairs over business places, or the clerks working in the stores.

NEED COOPERATION
To attempt to solve the problem by passing and enforcing drastic traffic and parking ordinances would only result in placing a damper on legitimate retail and wholesale business in Appleton while on the other hand cordial cooperation of the citizens would leave sufficient parking space available so that persons shopping would be enabled to leave their cars temporarily within something less than a 5 to 15 minute walk from the commercial district.

It would be impossible to hazard as final an opinion as to the exact dollar and cents loss entailed but it is reasonable to suppose that a person desiring to purchase goods may change his mind or spend his money elsewhere if the proprietor of his favorite store has parked his own automobile beside those of his employees in the space in front of his building to the exclusion of the tentative customer.

Finding parking space away from the avenue may increase the profits of any given business man—it is a situation worth considerable thought, the chief declared.

Indicative of how congestion is brought about Chief Prim gave out figures showing the parking increase on College-ave, in less than two hours on a normal day.

The check was made Thursday morning, first at 8:15, then at 8:45. There were 12 and 146 automobiles, respectively.

Between Walnut and Durkee-sts, at the first hour there were machines parked as follows:

Walnut and State, 2; Walnut and Superior, 2; Superior and Appleton, 4; Appleton and Oneida, 0; Oneida and Morrison, 2; Morrison and Durkee, 2.

At 8:45 o'clock the count was: State to Walnut, 20; Walnut to Superior, 30; Superior to Appleton, 19; Appleton to Oneida, 26; Oneida to Morrison, 89, and Morrison to Durkee, 12.

An increase to a total of 146 parked automobiles from 12 two hours earlier, at a time when business activities for the day have not started tells the story of whose cars are parked, the chief pointed out.

All but a very few of those automobiles are owned by store owners and their employees, Chief Prim declared. Four parked, not loading or unloading trucks were noted.

It is probable that a daily check

Believe Green Tail Lights Better In Motoring

If automobiles carried green instead of red tail lights in every state it would probably result in fewer accidents and to some extent simplify traffic problems, but unless such a measure could be enacted into law by federal process or by concerted action on the part of each state legislature such a departure would only cause confusion, especially to tourists, according to the consensus of opinion among highway and police officials in Appleton.

The Illinois State Highway department for some time past has been conducting an interstate campaign in the interests of the above suggestion but so far, reports indicate, the proposal has met with little active support. According to their announcement the use of red lights on automobiles is in direct contradiction to the use of red danger signals on the railroads.

"The railroad signal is a warning to stop while every night thousands upon thousands of motorists speed past other motorists carrying the red light of the railroad."

"A green light would advertise the presence of an automobile, an unmistakable sign. This would make the problem in highway construction work a lesser one because there would be no excuse for an automobilist driving into a barricade thinking it was a moving automobile.

"Many accidents involving running into a barricade or ditch is laid to the similarity of the tail light and traffic stop signal," the commission report states.

As an example of the consistency of its argument the Illinois body cites as instances in which they placed three red lights, one above the other, on some road work; after an accident the plaintiff declared that he thought the three red lights indicated three automobiles travelling up hill.

The commission hopes to convince automobile manufacturers of the practicability of the proposed system and is seeking similar support sufficient to bring the scheme before the national public.

Menasha—The total amount of funds on hand on August 31, according to the financial statement read by City Clerk John F. City Attorney Henry Fitzgibbon submitted a report on the recent conference with officials of the Soo Line and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company relative to street crossings. The matter of sewer in the Sauter property was referred to the finance committee with power to act. Alderman A. W. Borenz called the attention of the council to the need of rain coats for members of the fire department. It was decided to purchase 13, 12 black and 1 white. Bids returnable on Sept. 21 will be called for by the city clerk.

Upon the suggestion of Alderman A. Omashinski the committee was instructed to notify the contractor to clean up London and Seventh streets. The council decided to send a committee to the conference to be held at Appleton with reference to the proposed joint sewer and disposal plant. The Vankis plat in the fourth ward was approved and the corner of Main and Racine streets was ordered removed and the place occupied will be converted into a parking place.

Adopt Recommendation to Select Successor to Appleton Man

By a unanimous vote, ministers of the Wisconsin conference of Methodist Episcopal churches, at the business meeting Friday morning, voted to adopt the report of the church board of schools which carries the recommendation of a successor to Dr. E. E. Emme, formerly of Appleton, as director of religious education in the conference. The ministers approved the budget of $4,200.

The matter of continuing the present system of religious education, with a pause directed at the head, came under discussion at the meeting Thursday morning but adjournment was taken before the matter could be settled. Several laymen and ministers made spirited appeals to carry on with the work which had only been started and to continue the training of the youth of the church. The successor to Dr. Emme will be appointed at a later meeting.

NAME COMMITTEE DR. RICHARD EVANS, APPLETON

The report also showed that the value of church buildings and property in the state is $8,076,355.

A decrease of 299 was noted in the number of children baptized in 1926 over 1925. The number for this year was 1,541 while the number last year was 1,740. With 475 adult baptisms during the year there was decrease of 113 as compared with 1925.

The business session of the conference was closed at 10 o'clock and the joint meeting of the laymen and the ministers then opened with Bishop W. O. Shepherd, presiding. The bishop told of the importance of cooperation between the laymen and the pastors and introduced J. E. Cristy of Waupaca, chairman of the Laymen's association. Mr. Cristy commended the conference for continuing the religious schools program. He assured it of the hearty cooperation of laymen in the work.

ARGUE WHETHER CHILD'S NERVES ARE SHATTERED

Interesting Question Is Issue in $15,000 Damage Suit

Neenah—The question of whether the nervous system of a three year old child can be permanently injured by a shock received in a train automobile accident is being argued in circuit court, Oshkosh, before Judge Edgar Werner of Shawano in the case of Jane McGrath, daughter of Dr. W. P. Grath of Menasha, vs the Soo line.

On determination of that question hinges, to a large extent, whether the railway company will be ordered to compensate the little girl in the amount of $15,000 or be relieved of responsibility in the action.

Whether there was negligence on the part of the railroad company's train crew, also is to be decided. The case is expected to determine how much responsibility should be borne by the Soo line for the accident that occurred in Neenah on June 3, last year, at the Main-st crossing.

The little girl was riding with her father and others. According to physicians her nervous system has been permanently injured by the shock. Several other suits have been started against the railway by other occupants of the car.

PAY TRIBUTE TO M. E. MINISTERS INTERRED HERE

Delegates to Conference Hold
Memorial Service in Cemetery

"This is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith," was the text from the first epistle of John 5:4 of the memorial sermon on Victory given by the Rev. Samuel Jolliffe at the pilgrimage to Riverside cemetery Wednesday morning in connection with the Annual Wisconsin conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here.

The Rev. Webster Millar presided at the meeting. Arrangements for these services were in charge by W. F. Saecker and F. E. Saecker. Never before in the history of the conference has this memorial service in honor of the Methodist ministers buried within the conference city been so impressive Mr. Millar said.

Twenty-three Methodist ministers, some of the Wisconsin conference, others from outside conferences, are buried in Riverside. It was in honor of these men and of the wives of Methodist ministers buried here that these services were held.

Mr. Jolliffe in his sermon used as the guiding theme the conflict implied in victory and discussed the nature of these conflicts. "Are these of the physical world?" he asked, "or are they of a higher realm of intellectual and moral nature? The higher realm is related to God and immortality," he said, and "Man is an immortal made in the likeness of God."

TWO FACTORS
"Two factors are involved in the solution of a conflict: what we are up against or who and what is our enemy, and what are our available sources of power to overcome that enemy," he maintained. "St. John has told us that the world is our enemy, but just what does he mean by the world? Is it the physical world, the people in the world, or the vanities of the world?"

Each of these the speaker refuted to an extent leaving the impression that it was within the power of man to use all of these worlds as God intended and be successful in the conflicts arising in life. It is the misuse of things that God has given us that causes sadness and strife, he said. "To be out of harmony with the world as to intent and purpose is to be out of harmony with God." The victory of faith is the work of the ministry.

TRIBUTE TO MINISTERS

In the winning of the victory of faith and truth, Christians will wisely believe that "Christ is not only our example but it is through him that we have our power to conquer the sins of the world."

Mr. Jolliffe concluded with a tribute to the three ministers of this conference who had died during the past year.

The ministers who are buried here and for whom this service was held are: Samuel Plantz, J. H. Tippet, A.

J. Mead, Henry Lumas, J. G. Vaughn, F. H. Brigham, Stephen A. Olin, J. W. Olmstead, P. S. Bennett, W. J. Wilson, Thomas Peep, H. Miller, Thomas Orbison, I. H. Lewis, W. D. Ames, L. W. Bullock, E. C. Bullock, L. E. Bullock, Mr. Curtis.

The pilgrimage left the First Methodist church at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, and about 100 cars travelled to the cemetery where a small platform had been built for the speakers. The committee had planned to have the graves of the ministers visited following the ceremony, but there was no time after the program had been completed. Each grave has been marked by the local church with a marker bearing the name of the minister and the inscription, "A minister of the Methodist Episcopal church."

CHURCH SCHOOLS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Emme's Report Shows Progress of Religious Education

Religious education through the Methodist Episcopal church in the Wisconsin conference has been a success since its organization three years ago, according to a report of Prof. E. E. Emme, conference director of religious education in 1925 and 1926, read at the Thursday morning session of the Annual Wisconsin conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in Appleton.

Camp Cleghorn summer school of religious education has been especially satisfactory in its development, Mr. Emme believed. "Starting with an enrollment the first year of 52, we had 138 the second year, and this year 162." When we remember that most institutes and schools had a decreased enrollment this year our progress is a distinct credit to Wisconsin Methodism.

NINE HAVE SCHOOLS

Nine cities, including Appleton, conducted Standard Training schools in Wisconsin and these were organized and carried on in a worth while manner, the report stated. Plans for this year include at least ten training schools, a local church conference at Beloit Sept. 25 to 30, and a two day institute at Mosinee during the fall.

Mr. Emme made several suggestions for carrying on this educational work. Training in Bible and Bible contests were mentioned, also young people's educational contests following religious study. Adequate publicity is a necessity to the life of this movement, Mr. Emme said. Cooperation with Wisconsin Christian education councils and with the Epworth league were urged.

The Christian flag waves above each marker.

Rev. J. A. Holmes, pastor of the Appleton church, suggested that the churches throughout the Wisconsin conference follow this mode of honoring and remembering the past ministers buried in Wisconsin. It was moved by a delegate to the conference that these markers be established as a custom within the conference.

EQUITY HEAD TO TALK AT MEETING

Nelson Chief Speaker at Quarterly Meeting of Livestock Association

George Nelson, president of the state union of the American Society of Equity, will be the principal speaker at the quarterly meeting of the Kaukauna Livestock Shipping Association in Forster's hall, Kaukauna, at 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

The meeting, it is indicated, is for the purpose of broadening the scope of the society throughout the state. Reports declare that membership in the organization is growing and that greater interest is manifest in the objects of the society than at any time in its history in Wisconsin.

At present the state Equity movement is free of debt and a substantial balance is in the treasury, it was reported.

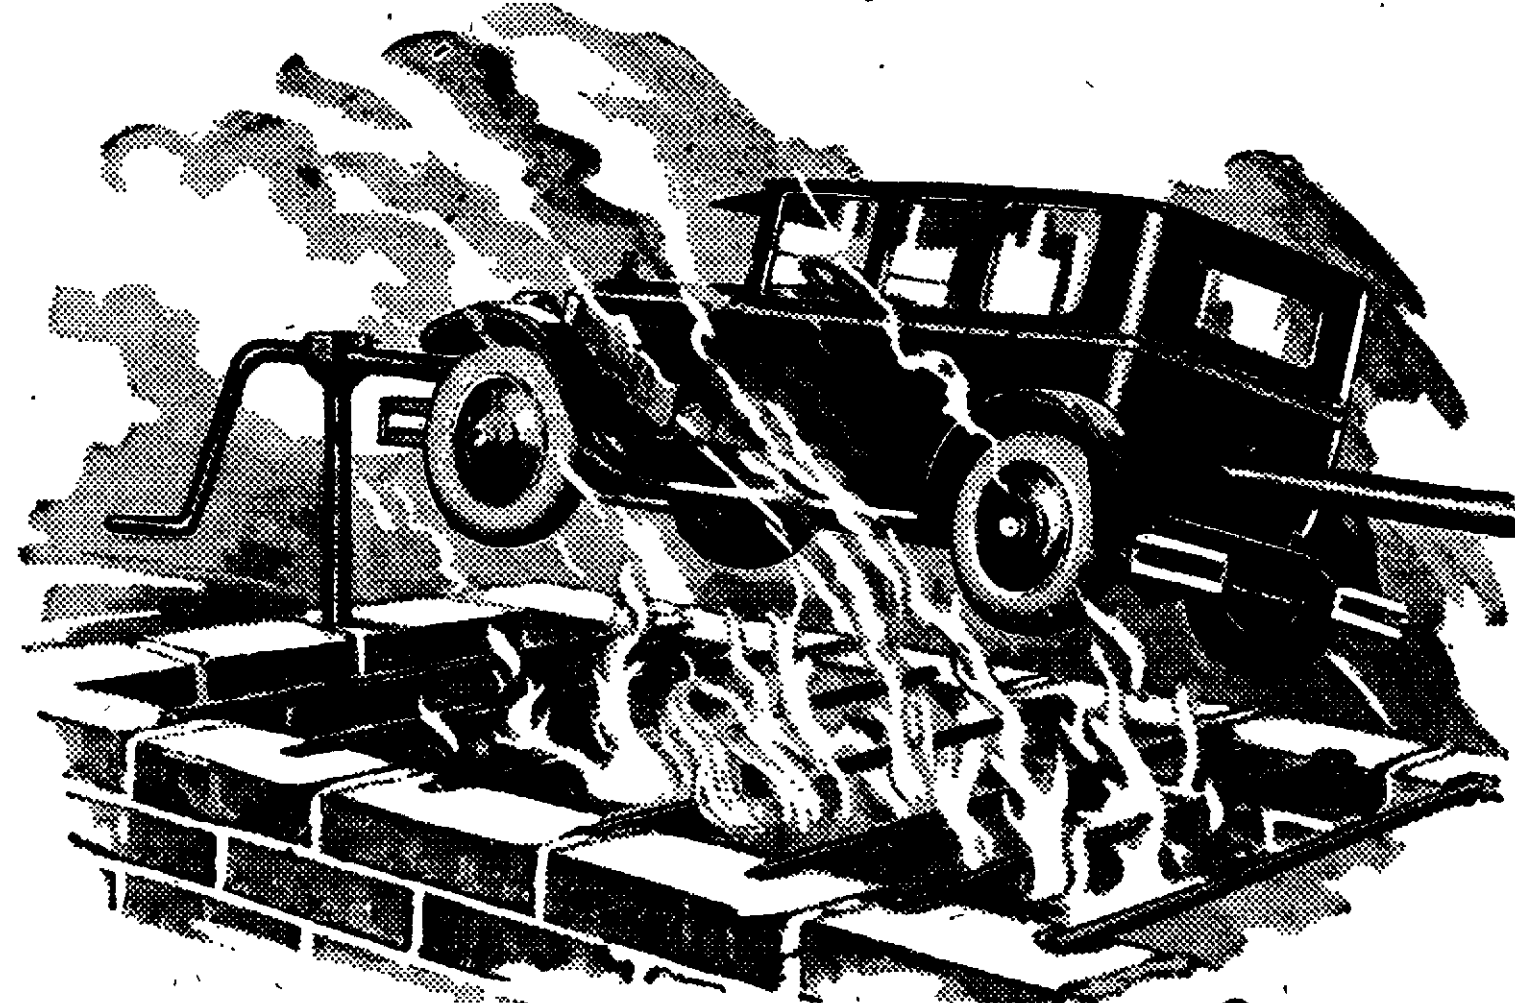

The Kaukauna unit has nearly 200 members. Objects of the organization are the cooperative shipping of stock and buying of farm essentials in price reducing quantities to be distributed among members.

On Friday evening Mr. Nelson will address a joint meeting of the Cicero, Black Creek and Drephal units at Falck's store, Nichols.

Barbecue!

OLD-TIME feasting where entire carcasses of sheep, porkers or even beeves were roasted whole on the spits.

Today, a milder revival at the wayside refreshment stands, tempting the passing motorist with succulent sausage and sandwich meats roasted in the chunk. But that's not the only wayside barbecue!

At every turn of the road, poor, cheapened gas claws for your car, ready to brown it to a turn for the junkman in the same in-the-chunk, roast-'em-whole way.

For poor gas damages the WHOLE car. The injury to the cylinders, pistons and motor block is only the beginning. The rough, jarring rack of uneven firing is communicated to the entire power-line from spark plug to rear drive. Valves gum. Compression falls off. Starter and battery feel the load of stubborn starting. Too soon, your car ages ALL OVER.

It carries the piston to the stroke's end by cushioned expansion instead of damaging raps and broken impulses. For longer car life and better performance all its life fill with Wadhams.

MADE WITH EGGS & CREAM MORY ICE CREAM A NEW FINE FLAVOR
You'll Wonder at It's Delicious Flavor

YOU'LL wonder at the new deliciousness of Mory Ice Cream. You'll wonder that a "factory made" ice cream could be so fine. The answer is simple — Mory Ice Cream is made just like you would make it in your own kitchen — made with the same fresh eggs and rich cream—flavored with the same fine flavoring that you would use yourself.

MORY ICE CREAM

Just a little more than a year ago a new idea was born at Mory's and that idea was—to make an ice cream that was as near in flavor as possible, to the kind that our mothers used to make. Several old recipes were gathered, trial mixings were made in our laboratories and experimenting was continued until the highest degree of perfection was developed and that is the present Mory Ice Cream.

Although it costs more to make ice cream of this kind, we have been more than repaid by the whole-hearted response of the public. The increased demand for Mory's has become so great that we have been able to hold the price of Mory Ice Cream down to the price of ordinary ice cream. It costs no more.

BUS OWNER PAYS FINE FOR DRIVING IN OSHKOSH

Fred Arndt, manager of the Appleton-Waupaca bus line, was fined $25 and costs Wednesday morning in Winnebago-co municipal court at Oshkosh, when he pleaded guilty of operating a bus in Oshkosh without securing a city permit. Arndt was arrested on the complaint of a driver of an Oshkosh-Waupaca bus.

The case developed considerable discussion as to what constitutes a bonded carrier under the Oshkosh city ordinance. A bus of Arndt's line, licensed between Appleton and Waupaca, picked up a load of people at Fremont and carried them through to Oshkosh, collecting fares there when they left the bus. Arndt claimed that the number of persons involved made his bus on that occasion a chartered vehicle and chartered buses are permitted to run into any municipality without securing permits. The complaint alleged that the bus was not a chartered bus because fares were charged individually.

After presenting his contentions at some length, Arndt pleaded guilty rather than face the possibility of more extended costs through trial.

Uncanny Radio Device Assures Power For Traction Company Patrons

In an era when conservative opinion scoffs at the possibility of further refinements in the inventive world the Wisconsin Heat, Traction, Light and Power Co. quietly installed one of the most remarkable developments in the radio-telephone field, has operated it for nine months successfully between its various power and managerial branches—with but one final objective to be accomplished through an expenditure of many thousands of dollars in equipment.

That objective is—Service.

Service—that the myriad factories, mills, mines and industrial plants from the southern borders of Wisconsin, dotting the Fox river valley through the eastern section of Wisconsin, to the furthestmost power unit of the company in Michigan can be interrupted function in emergencies when storms, especially, have wreaked a vengeance on the telephone and high power wires carrying the "juice" sold by the corporation.

Neither telephone system nor radio, in an analysis of its integral parts, the composite installation embraces the ultimate discoveries of laboratory engineers in each division.

A telephone system without wires. A radio receiving and sending unit with wires.

At the W. T. L. H. and P. company sub-station bordering the city limits of Appleton, where the high-voltage electricity is "stepped down" to supply the kilowatt hours of power absorbed annually by the valley mills and factories, is a small brick building housing a secondary pulse to the power carried throughout the district and the service feature extraordinary.

A panel approximately 7 feet high; 5 feet across and perhaps one foot deep—a small generator and equally diminutive storage battery, and an ordinary enough appearing dial telephone, not unlike any dial desk telephone, greet the eye of the visiting layman.

The panel appears to be an innocuous enough piece of power house equipment, similar in general outline to any instrument board of radio.

CONVICT LABOR DRAWS DOOR COUNTY PROTEST

Sturgeon Bay, Wis.—A resolution asking the state to stop the use of convict labor in the Peninsula State park has been sent to Gov. Blaine by civic organizations of Sturgeon Bay, Fish Creek and Ephraim. ## AIR MAIL BEACONS IN WEST SCARE COYOTES

Salt Lake City—(AP)—Sheepmen of Utah county say the new beacon lights on the way of the transcontinental mail route have frightened away the herdsmen's eternal enemy—the coyote.

Leon Shaw, woolgrower, found coyotes strangely missing this year when the herds were taken to spring quarters. He attributed this to the great "searchlights" placed in the hills to guide the air pilots.

The case was moving slowly at noon and it was doubted whether it would be in the hands of the jury by evening.

ASHMAN, PRIEBE ON SECOND ALL-VALLEY SQUAD

Teams Chosen By Green Bay Sport Scribe Give Oshkosh, Bays 3 First-Team Places

Teams Chosen by Green Bay Handler Wins First Squad Catcher's Position; Schultz Fails to Place

First Team Second Team
 Handler, Nee. Ashman, App.
 Nixon, Nee. Geitz, Osh.
 L. Faris, Fon. 1b Schell, Kin.
 Hackbarth, Osh. 2b L. Theis, Kin.
 Clusman, G. B. 3b Horjes, Osh.
 Clark, G. B. 4b Sanders, Fon.
 Bixby, Osh. 5b Novotny, Osh.
 Williams, G. B. cf Pribe, App.
 Madison, Nee.

Not a member of the Appleton baseball squad of the Fox River Valley league placed on the first all-valley loop squad for 1926 picked by G. W. Calhoun, "Cal", sporting editor of the Green Bay Press-Gazette and official scorer of the Bays. Ashman, local scribe, was given a second team job, below Handler of Neenah, who probably earned his position as battery mate of the famous Nixon, without whom any valley loop squad would be incomplete. Pribe, local gardener, also made the second squad, while Schultz one of the valley's best failed to place either at third or short. Clusman and Clark of Green Bay, Horjes of Oshkosh, and the veteran Sanders of Fondy, getting the jobs. Schultz was not even mentioned. Cal's selections were based partly on opinions he received from umpires and sport scribes around the loop, though he also has seen every team in action at least three times. Kimbly placed two men in the second team infield.

BY CAL
 Green Bay—There was plenty of good baseball on tap in the Valley league during the past season and there were several outstanding stars, but on the whole, the selection of first and second all-stars isn't exactly "easy picking."

Two spots on the infield and the first string hurler aren't very hard to get set on because Nixon of the Neenah easily was the Oshkosh didn't have any peer as a second sacker and Norm Clusman, of Green Bay played a good enough game at shortstop to attract the attention of the Louisville A. A. management.

Little comment is needed to defend the choice of these players. Nixon played a leading role with Neenah all season. True enough, he isn't a finished product in the box but he is a fast runner and has enough baseball sense to get away good while on the slab. Without Nixon, Neenah, would have had a "tearful" season.

Hackbarth is another "made to order" ball player. So far as hitting and fielding goes, he is there every day. The Oshkoshian is troubled somewhat with his throwing arm but despite the hurt he had it all over the other "keystone sack" guards like a tent.

Clusman gave a good account of himself at shortstop. He can throw from any position and plays a ground ball like a leg leaguer. The Bayite swings a wicked club and his long distance hitting played a prominent part in a number of the Green Sox victories.

So far as catchers go, one might just as well put the names of the six backstops in the hat and pick the first one drawn out. However, Handler, of Neenah showed consistently all season even though he was on the receiving end of Nixon's burning bend-ers. Handler was a demon with the stick but neither was any of the others except Loeffler, of Green Bay, who showed marked improvement during the last lap of the pennant chase.

Rod Ashman, of Appleton, was the spark plug of the Bays machine and he earns a shade over Jensen, of Fondy, and Hartjes, the Kimberly receiver.

There is plenty of chance for argument about the first basing job but the ability of Manager Faris to produce when they are needed, earned him a berth on the first selection. The Cardinal helmets is a part side fielder and he plays the bag well although when it comes to errors, he is worse off than some of the others. Schell, of Kaukauna, is a greatly improved player. He didn't look so good when the season started but finished fast. He probably can go into the dirt and grab 'em better than all the rest combined.

BREWS HAND SAINTS ANOTHER AS KERS WIN

Milwaukee—Just as he was to quaff of the sweet wine of victory, Bubba Jonard had the glass knocked from his lips Thursday and a stout-hearted, scintillating mound exhibition by the St. Louis Browns was dumped in the river. The fruits of a well deserved triumph turned to perspiration by a margin that made it just that much more bitter—2 to 1.

DEMPSEY HEAVY TITLIST SINCE EARLY IN 1919

Champion Has Held Crown Longer Than Any Other Fighter in History

Jack Dempsey has held the heavyweight championship of the world longer than any other titleholder in history. Jack has ruled the roost more than seven years.

It was back in 1919 that the famous "Giant Killer" reached the heights by crushing the huge Willard at Toledo. Since that memorable victory Dempsey has defended his honors five times. All but once he won via the kayo route.

In 1920 he whipped Billy Miske and Bill Brennan. Miske went out in the third, while Brennan fell in the twelfth after putting up a gallant fight. A year later came his "battle of the century" with Georges Carpentier, the gorgeous one from France.

Two years later Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons clashed at Shelby. Gibbons was still on his feet at the end of 15 rounds, but Dempsey took the verdict on points.

A few months later Jack met Luis Angel Firpo, the so-called "Wild Bull of the Pampas." Firpo went to the floor a number of times, finally staying down for good in the second session, after having floored Jack once and knocking him through the ropes and into the press box another time.

Six championship battles in seven years. Now comes Gene Tunney, ex-marine and outstanding contender for Dempsey's laurels. What will Jack do? Will Tunney follow the trail previous Dempsey rivals have taken or will it be Jack's turn this time? You'll know the answer the night of Sept. 23.

OSHKOSH, FONDY OPEN BALL FEUD

Three Game Series Between Leading Crews of Valley Starts Sunday

The Fond du Lac and Oshkosh clubs of the Fox River Valley league will start their series of post-season games at Oshkosh next Sunday. It was announced by league directors. Interest in the three game series is keen as Oshkosh won the league pennant and Fond du Lac finished second in the final standing, trailing the winners by a margin of two games.

Fond du Lac will use its regular lineup at Oshkosh on Sunday. "Eps" Leu will do the pitching with Vorhees and Krause in reserve. The latter made a big hit with Fondy fans in his debut against Appleton at Juneau on Labor day.

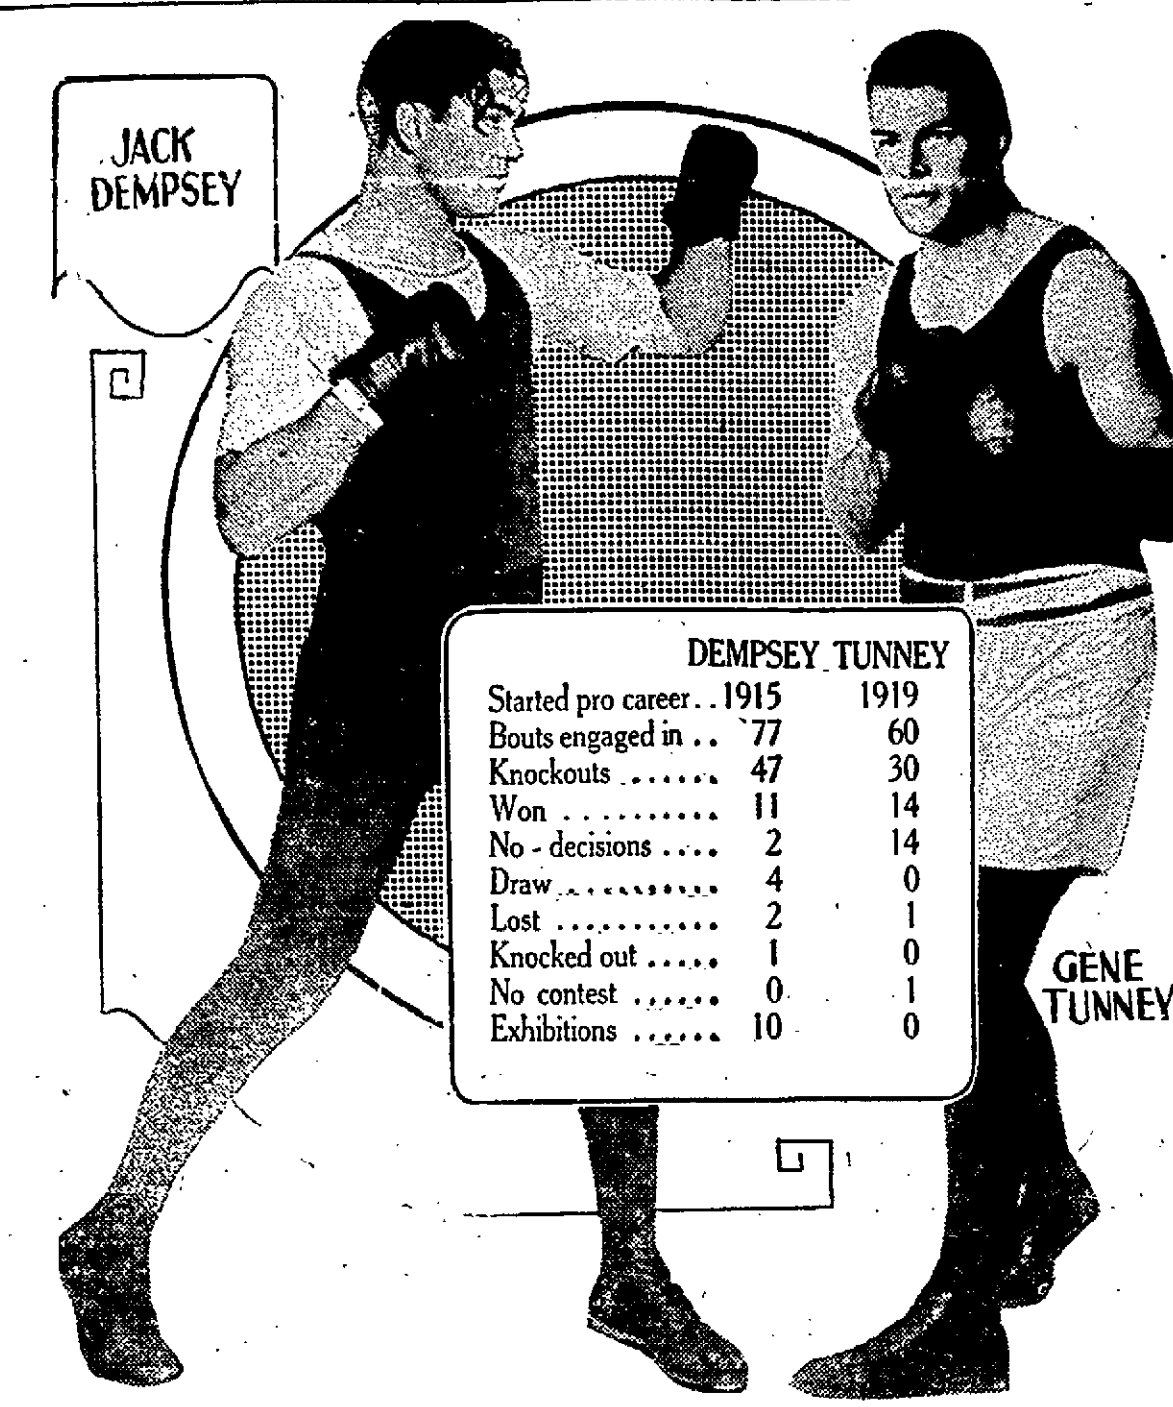

For Oshkosh, either Bruce Noel or Gretzen will do the flinging. The second game will be played here Sept. 19 and if the third game is necessary a flip of the coin will decide the field on which it will be played—either Ruppert park or the Oshkosh fairgrounds.

THIRTY GRIDMEN REPORT AT EAST

Kicker to Fill Shoes of "Grange of Valley" Is Wiley's Problem

Green Bay—Some thirty husky gridmen have reported to Coach Wiley for football work at East high school. Punting, receiving kicks, charging and a bit of rugby football make-up have been the initial practice program.

HERE'S RECORD OF MEN IN BIG BATTLE

DEMPSEY	TUNNEY
Started pro career . . . 1915	1919
Bouts engaged in . . . 77	60
Knockouts . . . . . 47	30
Won . . . . . 11	14

Draw . . . . . 4	0
Lost . . . . . 2	1
Knocked out . . . . 1	0
No contest . . . . . 0	1
Exhibitions . . . . . 10	0

Here's another comparison stunt on Jack and Gene—their pugilistic records.

It shows Dempsey started his pro career in 1915, or four years earlier than the challenger. It shows Dempsey has participated in 77 bouts against 60 for Tunney. It also shows Tunney has averaged about nine battles a year, while Jack's been in but seven. (Before Dempsey won on his three-year vacation he, too, had averaged about nine contests yearly, however.)

In the matter of knockouts, Dempsey leads with 47, against 30 for Gene. A good portion of Jack's came in the first round. The late Bill Brennan was the toughest fellow for Dempsey to put out. Brennan stayed 12 rounds. Tunney found Georges Carpentier equally hard to bowl over, whipping the one-time idol of France on a technical kayo in 15 sessions.

Dempsey has won 11 decisions to Tunney's 14. Jack has been in but two no-decision bouts to 14 for the challenger. Dempsey has taken part in four draws, Tunney none.

Twice Jack has lost the decision on points, once to Jack Downey and the other time to Willie Meehan. Both were four-round skirmishes. Gene has dropped but one decision, that to Harry Greb in 15 rounds in 1922. Incidentally, Greb is the only one to whip Tunney since Gene started his pro career.

Dempsey is charged with one knockout defeat—Jim Flynn did it in 1917 in one round. Tunney has been in one "no contest," the Jack Renault clash in 1923 which was stopped in the fourth.

Williams Calls Champion Jack Dempsey Dr. Jekyll, Mr. Hyde Of Fight Game

Jack Is Wholly Savage While in Ring, but Loves Children and Folks

This is the tenth and final article of the series by Joe Williams, fistic critic of NEA Service, Inc., relating some of the more interesting and unusual episodes in the pugilistic career of Champion Jack Dempsey.

BY JOE WILLIAMS
 What kind of a fellow is Dempsey? I have heard that question answered in ways that were flattering and unflattering to the heavyweight champion.

I know of no better way to answer it than to say that there are few people who know him that don't like him . . . and don't keep on liking him. To me he is the most extraordinary figure the fight game has produced in years. An amazing combination of brute savagery and childish gentility. An incongruous composite of rumbling thunder and soft sunshine. Truly, a Dr. Jekyll and a Mr. Hyde in equal parts.

Consider this picture: Dempsey is going through his training routine for the Tunney fight out at the dog track a mile or so from the roaring sea at Atlantic City. As usual he is all business. His swarthy features are distorted in a scowl. His lips are drawn tight over two rows of even teeth. He is boxing a welterweight named Johnny Saxon, a ham-and-egger from Bridgeport.

The mixing is fast and spirited. The champion is getting a fine leg and arm workout calculated to sharpen his speed. He is stepping in and out without trying to land any heavy punches. Suddenly he lands a short left hook, unmeaningly, and Saxon drops in a heap, completely knocked out.

Unperturbed, the twisted imprint of the savage still on his face, Dempsey turned to Bill Tate, the giant negro, and said, "Cary him out." Then looking over his other sparring partners who sat huddled at the edge of the ring he beckoned to Alex Hart, Ohio

Dempsey is charged with one knockout defeat—Jim Flynn did it in 1917 in one round. Tunney has been in one "no contest," the Jack Renault clash in 1923 which was stopped in the fourth.

PIRATES, CUBS SPLIT AS REDS, CARDS ARE IDLE

Yanks Increase Lead Over Indians to 8 Full Games in A. L. Chase.

The west has invaded the east with four fighting teams to battle for the National League pennant.

St. Louis leading, and three games ahead of Cincinnati, has engagements first with the Boston Braves, buried deep in the cellar, Chicago, in fourth place, but with a chance, meanwhile meets Philadelphia, Boston's rival, for the foot of the ladder. The Pirates, who top the cubs by three points, play the Giants while the Reds are in Brooklyn.

Cincinnati rested Thursday. Hornsby and his cardinal pitching staff perched in the Yankee grand stand gaining probable world series pointers. Pittsburgh and Chicago resumed the fight for third place, and split two games, dropping a lone point each to the leaders.

Joe Bush hooked up in a pitching duel with Percy Jones of the Cubs, in the first game and made sure of his 21 victory by doubling in the second to chase Traynor and Cronin across the plate. Then Pittsburgh made five errors in a 10 to 1 debacle.

Philadelphia closed the season with Brooklyn, losing 12 to 6. The Robins scored nine runs in the final frame, Cy Williams hitting two homers making a life total of 202.

The Giants nosed out Boston in an 11 inning tilt, 3 to 2, after tying the score in the ninth.

Cleveland virtually gave up the ghost in its chase to catch the New York Yankees. The Indians dropped eight games behind the leaders when Detroit won 2 to 1. The Yankees showed the watching Cardinals how to hit. The Red Sox were barbecued, 10 to 0. Bob Shawkey turned in a four-hit game.

The St. Louis Browns lost two to Chicago 3 to 1 and 5 to 1.

DEPERE, FREEDOM IN LOOP BATTLES

First Place at Stake in Inter-county Circuit in Double Bill Sunday

STANDINGS	W.	L.	Pct.
Freedom	8	5	.615
Combined Locks	9	6	.600
Wrightstown	8	6	.571
De Pere	8	6	.571
Little Chute	6	8	.430
Onida	11	11	.357

SUNDAY GAMES
De Pere at Freedom (2 games.)
Little Chute at Onida.

Important changes in the pennant race in the Inter-county baseball loop are bound to be made Sunday as the result of three postponed games which will be played off. Little Chute invades Onida in a cellar battle but even an Onida win will not take that crew out of the cellar while a Little Chute win also will not raise that squad.

The big games are at Freedom, where the loop leaders have two postponed tilts, with De Pere, a third place team which is just a half game from Freedom, to clinch the league banner by a double win as then even though it is beaten by Wrightstown in the final postponed game of the loop a week from Sunday, it will hold a half game lead over both Wrightstown and Combined Locks in second.

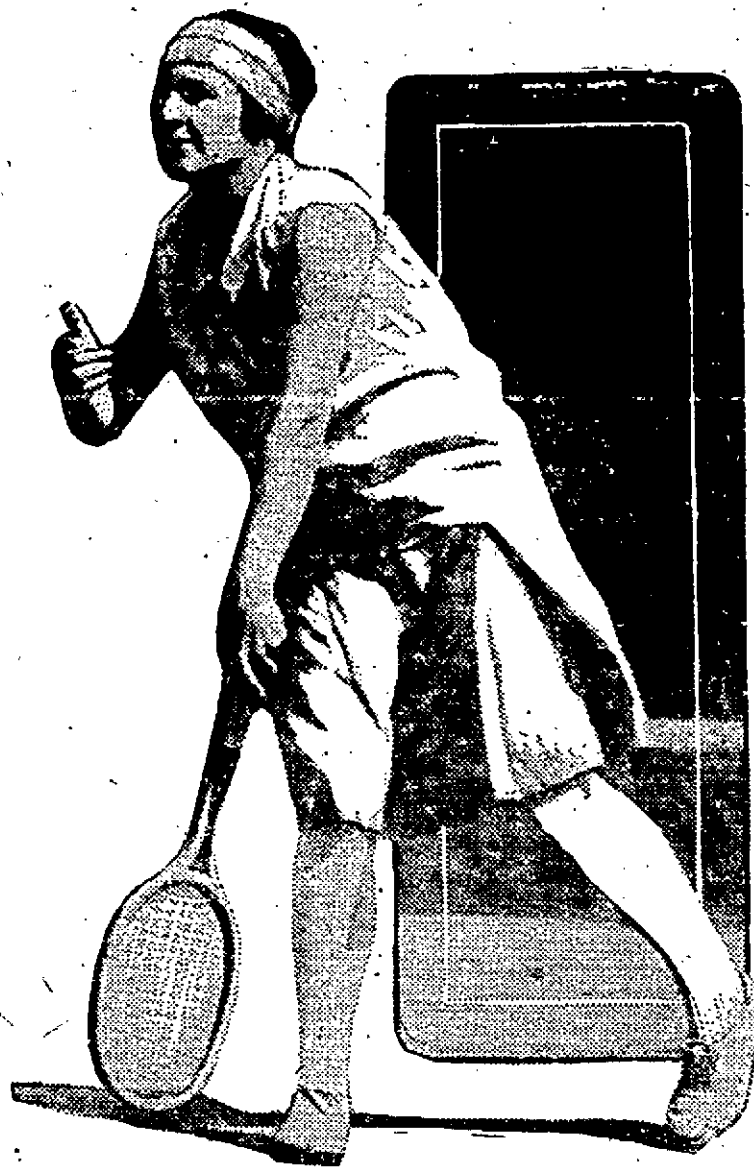

Two losses for Freedom will send the present leaders all the way to fourth place, a game and a half from the top, with De Pere going from fourth to first. De Pere is going from fourth to first, a half game to the rear in second and Wrightstown about a game behind in third. This would clinch the flag for De Pere as Combined Locks is through playing while Wrightstown can only pull up to the Locksmen, a half-game from the top, by beating Freedom, and Freedom could only pull up to less than a game from De Pere by beating Wrightstown.

An even break Sunday will tie Freedom, Combined Locks and De Pere for first place with Wrightstown in fourth a half-game behind. Then a Freedom win the following Sunday will give that crew the banner while a Wrightstown win will tie that crew the Locks and De Pere for the flag with Freedom down in fourth.

ECCENTRIC MUSICIAN FAVORED IN LONDON

London—(AP)—Signor Mechi, "the last of the troubadours," is a much sought entertainer in London. This eccentric musician resembles Anton Lang, the Christus of the Oberammergau Passion Play, in appearance. His hair is long. He wears sandals and simple Italian peasant garb, even when entertaining at regal dinners. His simple songs of great sweetness are sung to the accompaniment of a sort of guitar which resembles a harp.

STARS ON PACIFIC COAST

MISS AVERY FOLLETT

One of the most promising tennis players on the Pacific coast this season is Avery Follett. She recently won the women's Del Monte championship and bids fair to go a long way in the court pastime. California is noted for turning out sensational racket wielders, many of whom have won national championships, and in Miss Follett experts see another future great.

MISSION WORKER CAN FIND BROAD FIELD AT HOME

Great Strides Have Been Made in Missionary Effort,
Speaker Tells Women

Home mission challenges to the Christians of the United States were discussed by Mrs. V. F. DeVinney of St. Paul, Minn., at the anniversary meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church in connection with the Wisconsin Methodist conference, Mrs. M. T. Sandborn presided at the meeting. Looking backward and thinking forward" is the slogan to be used in the launching of the home missions campaign in honor of the fiftieth anniversary jubilee, Mrs. DeVinney said. This slogan, the speaker believed, expressed the sentiment of the broad point of view of missions not of the old, narrow opinion, where missions was an isolated movement not directly concerned with the greater Christianity.

MAKE BIG STRIDES
The interdenominational ideal of home missions has taken great strides in accomplishment in the past decade, it was said. For more than 200 years, there was no organic cooperation even within the Protestant sects, and then for a period of years there was no cooperation among the denominations, but now there has developed a true Christianity, a true brotherhood of man in the missionary work of the United States, and the Protestant churches work together for the realization of a greater Christian life.

Work not possible with the old petty denominational strife can now be done, it was said. Mrs. De Vinney cited instances where the interdenominational board could serve where separate churches would not be allowed to operate. The government school and government hospitals in the American island possessions have presented fruitful fields. Here the different churches and societies undertake the responsibility of maintaining certain phases of the work, and all strive together for the building of Christian service.

REACHES THEM ALL
Home missions is distinguished from the general term Christianity, the speaker explained, in that it tries to reach those who live on the margin of life. Home missions tries to reach the last man, geographically, economically and socially.

The promoting of Christian citizenship is one of the great challenges facing the home missionary worker today, Mrs. De Vinney stated. Spiritual service to the world will consummate the great Christian ideal of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man, and spiritual service is Christian patriotism or citizenship, the speaker explained.

Home missionary work has an international scope, it was believed. One of its great problems is to promote international good-will, and the United States has today the greatest opportunity in the world in this service of evangelism. The large floating foreign population is the natural evangelist to the people left at home, and the alien in the schools today is fertile soil for the Christian worker.

The interdependence of individuals on one another is greater today than ever before in the history of man, according to scientists, Mrs. De Vinney quoted. The nature of industry and the division of labor has made this condition. The problem raised by this interdependence is one of service. The field for home missions in solving this challenge is unlimited, Mrs. De Vinney believed. The home missionary worker may aptly take for his aim: "To

PRIM HELPS ARRANGE POLICE CONVENTION

Chief George T. Prim left Friday morning for Milwaukee to confer with executive officers of the Wisconsin Police Chiefs' association as to details concerning the next annual meeting of the organization. The Appleton chief is president of the organization. Don Kay, for several years chief of police at Waukesha and later connected with the sheriff's forces there, is executive secretary. No details are ready for announcement, the chief said.

ANOTHER SLUMP IN ROAD TRAFFIC

1,500 Fewer Cars Counted on Labor Day Than on Same Day Year Ago

Figures compiled by Miss Agnes Malone, secretary in the office of A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner, show that on Labor Day 5,508 vehicles passed the intersection of Lemnawah-st. and E Wisconsin-ave, on state trunk highway 15, during one of the periodical tabulations conducted by the highway commissioner. A checker was stationed at the corner between 8 in the morning and 11 o'clock at night.

In 1925 a total of 7,337 conveyances were counted and in 1924 there were 5,754 on the corresponding day. The count Monday showed: Wisconsin pleasure cars, 5,146; foreign machines, 428; light trucks, 71; heavy trucks, 139; motorcycles, 19 and five horse drawn vehicles.

No reason can be ascribed for the decided drop in totals between this year and last other than weather conditions are believed to have had a great effect in driving vacationists back to their homes during the week preceding the check.

Industry was made for man, not man for industry. Great material success threatens the submergence of the spiritual, Mrs. De Vinney feared, and she challenged the home missionary to promote the peaceful conquest of America today even as the foreign missionaries of the Catholic church made a peaceful conquest of America in its beginnings. There is a need for human values in human relations, she concluded.

FACE DISFIGURED WITH PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

Druggist proves a friend in need

Kalispell, Mont., March 12.—"Two years ago my face was an awful sight. The skin broke out with pimples and blackheads and itched all the time. I washed it frequently and applied various salves, but they helped little. One day I asked a druggist for a good cure for my case, and that night I took home a small jar of Resinol Ointment. Every morning and night I washed my face and applied the ointment, rubbing it in good. After a few treatments I noticed the pimples were starting to decrease and in two or three weeks they were practically gone. I was so well pleased with the results that I now keep Resinol on hand and recommend it whenever I can." (Signed) Elkin E. Berry, 1028 Third Ave. West.

In The Days News

Prince of the Asturias, heir-apparent to the throne of Spain, is reported to be dying. The 18-year-old prince, in uncertain health from a spinal disease, has taken a turn for the worse and physicians are said to be despairing of his life. In case of his death, Don Juan, the king's third son who is 12, probably will be named heir-apparent.

Soava Gallone, the Mary Pickford of Italy, is in Hollywood, Cal., in search of the success that Italian stars no longer can find at home since American films ousted the home-made variety. She is Polish, but married an Italian lawyer while studying medicine in Paris. She then took up film work in Italy and became known all over the continent.

Holding part of the spotlight in the Hall-Mills case is Ferd A. David, county detective, who is criticized by the prosecution. Inspector John J. Underwood says his men were sent on a wild goose chase by David. He says there was no such hotel, address or persons as David named in a letter. David denies the charges.

American lives and property in Nicaragua, endangered by the outbreak of revolutionary activities, are being protected now by Rear Admiral Julian L. Latimer, commander of the special service squadron. He was ordered to proceed with his flagship, the cruiser Roanoke, to Rivas, near the Nicaraguan border, where danger is said to threaten.

an avocation correlative to her usual duties. The children would do the cooking, stewing, baking and canning. The output would be sold. The schools would roll in the wealth thus received from the pleasant task of confining edibles to tin cans.

What hours would be devoted to this proposed interesting educational innovation was left to the judgment of the school authorities.

What markets would be opened—ditto.

A multitude of other details—ditto.

Among the appointments ordered perhaps for use in the rural schools Wednesday no voucher was to be found calling for the installation of 100 or more model canning factories. However, County Superintendent A. G. Menting remarked, the outfit is a splendid one for schools large enough to support domestic science work on a metropolitan basis but it will be some time before rural schools will become competitors in the pure food market as exemplified by the ultimate victim of the apartment house bride's can-opener.

Washington Will Wake Up The Middle Of September

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington — Notwithstanding the congressional campaign, which is giving politicians in their home states and districts something to think about, Washington will begin to wake up, congressionally speaking, about the middle of September.

There always is a great deal to do at a "short session" of Congress, which convenes this year on Dec. 6, and not much time to do it in.

Actual legislation can't start—in the absence of a special call by the president—until the specified date in December, but committees can be getting things in shape to work rapidly in the scant three months before the law ends the 69th Congress "sine die."

The administration is particularly anxious to get things "snuggled down" next winter, because of apprehensions—of course not admitted, but felt beyond any question—that it will lose control of the Senate at the November elections.

If so, the coming "short session" of the dying Congress will be its last chance to get its policies acted on as it wants them acted on.

Once acted on thus, the administration assumes that matters will "stay put" for the ensuing two years, inasmuch as it doesn't expect to lose control of the House of Representatives, too, however much it may be worrying about the Senate.

The Senate alone can't do any repealing. Even in the somewhat improbable event of a completely Democratic Congress the president can veto anything he dislikes, and it's unbelievable that the Democrats will make gains enough to override a presidential veto.

Obviously it's the part of prudence for the administration Republicans to have everything in shape to be speedy with their program next December, January and February.

Rural Schools Not Ready To Become Canning Plants

Efforts to turn the rural schools of the county into canning factories failed Wednesday.

Representing a firm devoted to the manufacture of fruit and vegetable canning apparatus, scaled down to fit the needs of modern domestic science class requirements, a Wisconsin propounded the proposition that the slogan of the rural schools should be modeled after the old saw:

We eat what we can and what we can't eat we can.

The theory of the manufacturer, as outlined by his salesmen, is simple to the point of being beautiful—in theory.

Every rural school in the county should be, ought to be, and almost has to be equipped with the apparatus, he declared.

The fathers and mothers of the pupils would apparently be called upon to supply the vegetables and fruits.

The teacher would be instructed how to manage a canning factory as
